104 Doukhobors To-day Placed In Oakalla Jail

Sons of Freedom Sing As They Go To Serve Terms

Men and Women Convicted Following Parade at South Slokan Transported to Oakalla by Police So Quietly No Outside Demonstration Breaks Out; Seven School Pupils Brought to Coast.

New Westminster, Sept. 11.—Chanting the weird Russian songs of their religion, 104 men and women and seven youthful members of the Doukhobors were quietly detained at Essondale station at 10.30 this forenoon and taken in busses to the Oakalla Jail, where the adults will begin serving sentences of six months for indecent exposure. Almost continuous song was the only demonstration given by the Doukhobors from the time they left Nelson aboard the special train yesterday morning until they arrived at the Essondale station.

Guarded by many provincial police constables, who had kept the time and place of their leaving the train as secret as possible in order to avoid a crowd of spectators, these common-place looking Russian peasants adopted an attitude of cheerful resignation. The seven so-called children are boys of almost adult stature. They appear to be between sixteen and twenty years of age. They will be separated from their parents at Oakalla and will be educated under the direction of the Children's Aid Society.

ANOTHER PARADE BY DOUKHOBORS IN SASKATCHEWAN

Mikado, Sask., Sept. 11.—More than a score of Doukhobor women and children, who had been driven out of here shortly after noon to-day, following the arrest of several members of the band who had been marching toward Canora, Sask. Police threatened with riding whips several men who had started to disperse, and succeeded in forcing them to remain fully clothed. The Doukhobors, members of the Sons of Freedom sect, had been denied entry to Canora by the mayor of the town. The arrests followed refusal by the leaders of the party to return to their homes.

LADY JOURNALIST LIFTS VEIL IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Mrs. Charles Hansen Says Russia Still Hopes to Win World to Communism Country Faced Famine This Year, But Replanted Crops Will Remove Spectre

Soviet Russia still clings to the hope that by its highly systematized and consistent propagandist campaign it will ultimately convert the world to communism. Since the debacle of 1917, when the Czarist regime was engulfed by revolution, Russia has been more than ever a land of mystery, shrouded as it has been by an atmosphere of suspicion, distrust and fear, with espionage rampant and the gaunt spectre of famine gnawing at its vitals.

The veil has been slightly raised by Mrs. Charles O. Hansen, lady journalist and wife of Dr. Hansen, retired physician and surgeon of Palo Alto, Cal. Dr. and Mrs. Hansen returned from a journey through Russia last Saturday and have since been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Denny of 1803 Crescent road. They were voyage companions with Mr. and Mrs. Denny to Europe via Panama in the Springer, and the Norwegian motorship Annie Johnson.

NORMAL SCHOOL SESSIONS OPEN; 136 ENROLLED

Forty-five Victoria Girls and Boys Take Teaching Course This Term

Seventy Are Seeking First Class Certificates at School

With 136 students enrolled, the Provincial Normal School sessions for the 1929-30 term commenced this morning under the principal, D. L. McLaurin.

The aspirants to the teaching profession gathered in the assembly room at the school at 9 o'clock, and were assigned to their classes. Some sessions were held this morning, but the real work of the school will not commence until next week.

The enrolment this year shows a slight decrease over that of last year, when 142 students were on hand for the opening. It is expected, however, that a few latecomers from the interior or up-land will make the roster as large as the previous year.

Judging from the numbers enrolled, it appears there will be many more new lady-teachers in the Province next year than men. To date 112 girls have registered for the class, and twenty-four boys. Forty-five Victorians are taking the courses.

Seventy of those attending the school this year are seeking first-class certificates, having taken one year at the school in order to gain this standing. The other sixty-six will secure second-class certificates if they pass in their course. Six students are repeating the course, having failed to qualify in examinations last term.

AUSTRALIANS TO VOTE IN OCTOBER

Canberra, Aus., Sept. 11.—Australia is expected to have a general election about four weeks hence. Following the defeat of his Government in committee yesterday, Premier Stanley Bruce decided to resign.

Three members of the Nationalist or government party, in addition to former Premier William McEwen, and a member of the Country Party allied with the government voted against the administration. The Speaker, in accordance with usual practice, did not vote. If he had, the division would have been equal and the casting vote of the chairman would have ensured a government victory.

AT TOMB OF PETER VEREGIN

With the Doukhobors in British Columbia very much in the public eye at present the above picture, taken a few days ago, is of interest. It shows two Doukhobor women at the grave of Peter Veregin near Brilliant, B.C. The women wear the simple, antiquated, head covering traditional with the sect. Veregin, for many years leader of the community, was killed in an explosion aboard a train two or three years ago. The present leader, Peter Veregin, who came from Russia, is a son of the late chief.

CANNERY OWNER PUTS END TO LIFE

Seattle, Sept. 11.—Overwork during a record season at his fish cannery at Anchorage, Alaska, was declared by police to-day to have caused Joseph A. Magill to end his life here.

Magill, police said, shot himself yesterday morning while Mrs. Magill had turned her back to him for a moment. The shooting was reported to the police at 5 p.m., when Magill was dying.

Two friends of the family said the cannery operator had been drinking heavily since his return from Alaska ten days ago. They said that on Monday night they had argued with the man, who had threatened them to end his life.

NEW PROOF OF B.C.'S LEADING POSITION GIVEN

Province at Top With 41 Commerce Chambers in National Association

Secretary's Report Read at Edmonton Convention Summarizes Gains

Edmonton, Sept. 11.—British Columbia heads the list of the Canadian chambers of commerce for boards of trade or chambers of commerce affiliated with that body. The report of Secretary W. M. Clarke, read at the chamber's annual meeting here to-day showed that during the last year the active membership was increased from 167 to 175 Boards of Trade or Chambers of Commerce. The number of boards or chambers now affiliated with the Canadian body, by provinces, is: British Columbia 41, Alberta 24, Saskatchewan 13, Manitoba 7, Ontario 40, Quebec 19, New Brunswick 9, Nova Scotia 17, and Prince Edward Island 5.

YEAR OF PROGRESS

Edmonton, Sept. 11 (Canadian Press).—A year of progress, during which its influence and membership increased, was outlined in the report of the secretary, W. M. Clarke, delivered to-day at the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in session here.

The report showed that the individual membership increased about 25 per cent, Mr. Clarke showed. The mileage covered by the national officers of the organization during the year totaled 87,000 miles, of which 35,000, or approximately 100 miles a day, were in Canada.

DELEGATIONS' TOURS

The organization sent delegations or individual members to Great Britain, the United States and the West Indies and a representative is to attend the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of North and South America at Barcelona during October of this year.

"The national organization takes legitimate pride" in the fact that the chamber's policy has been advanced by the Government on industrial and scientific research, sales tax reductions, aviation and immigration development, provision for the greater use of Canadian coal by Canadians, and the extension of the trans-Canada railway.

HEARD AT OTTAWA

Findings of the chamber had been presented to the Federal Cabinet and members of the House of Commons and the Senate during the last year and "it is satisfactory to note that the chamber's policy has been advanced by the Government on industrial and scientific research, sales tax reductions, aviation and immigration development, provision for the greater use of Canadian coal by Canadians, and the extension of the trans-Canada railway."

Mr. Clarke stated. The debate in the House of Commons this year on the National Highway also showed a growing favorable opinion toward the chamber's recommendations, the report said.

BULLETINS ISSUED

A new development of the chamber during the last year had been the issuing during the parliamentary session of a bi-monthly summary of the legislation introduced and passed in Parliament. Many letters of appreciation of this service had been received by the secretary.

An important phase of the year's work had been the gathering of forty delegates from all the provinces at Toronto on November 27, when questions of national import affecting the better relations of agriculture and the other economic interests of Canada were discussed. W. M. Birks, Montreal, president, was chairman, and the matter of how local boards or chambers could assist in the developing of the co-ordination of rural with urban interests, was thoroughly discussed. The extension of agricultural district representatives appointed by the provincial governments was advocated in the interests of agriculture. Mr. Clarke stated, other recommendations being the taking of a survey of distribution costs, a greater support of Canada's agricultural colleges, the increased use of modern machinery in farming, the further processing of agricultural products in Canada, the grading of products and the calling together later of a conference including all interested agricultural organizations and associations with the purely commercial organizations of the Dominion.

An advisory committee, composed of the various provincial deputy ministers of agriculture, was also approved at the meeting to aid the national agricultural committee which had been set up by the chamber following the Toronto conference.

Other features of the chamber's activities during the last year, as reviewed by the secretary, were the calling of a joint conference at Ottawa for the consideration of practical methods of developing the West Indian fruit and vegetable trade with Canada, the establishment of close relations with the Chambers of Commerce in the Empire, the analyzing of the structure and functioning of more than 100 of the leading boards and chambers of the country, and the transmission of the findings with suggestive comments to the membership.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY

The industrial survey, authorized by the Quebec convention of last year, had been begun and the chamber would continue to co-operate with the Department of the Interior in the making of a more complete industrial survey of the Dominion.

The chamber had assisted in the arranging of the trans-Canada tour of Hon. Herbert Marler, Canada's first Minister to Japan.

A widespread publication of the chamber's news had been made by the press, said the secretary, for which the national executive was deeply grateful.

Printers to Take Ballots Soon On Slates of Officers

Seattle, Sept. 11.—The conservative wing of the International Typographical Union, in convention here, late last night decided to conduct a referendum by mail on its slate of officers.

Nominees selected by the conservatives will appear on the final election ballots opposed to the candidates selected by the progressives. The election will be held in May, 1930.

Those named to appear on the referendum ballots were: President, Fred Barker, Spokane, and James M. Lynch, Syracuse, N.Y., first vice-president; John J. Buckley, Brooklyn, N.Y.; second vice-president, Lloyd Spaulding, Hamilton, Ont.; secretary-treasurer, John W. Hayes, Los Angeles, and Guy McCoy, Indianapolis.

The progressives were expected again to nominate Charles P. Howard, present head of the union.

GEN. CHANG ON TRIAL IN JAPAN

Evidence Heard on Fatal Shooting of Ex-Prince Hsien of China

Tokio, Sept. 11.—Public trial of Chang Tsung-chang, former war-lord of Shantung, charged with accidental homicide in connection with the shooting of Ex-Prince Hsien, cousin of the former boy Emperor of China, was opened yesterday in the Citta district court.

Chang was represented by his secretary, who testified the shooting of the young Manchui while standing in the garden of a hotel at Beppu, Japan, before a window in which Chang was examining a revolver, was accidental. He said the two were not acquainted before the evening of the shooting. Nevertheless he said that when the former prince was struck he cried out that he was murdered and that Chang should be watched.

Ex-Prince Hsien Kai was twenty-one years of age and had graduated from the Japanese Military Academy in July. He was on a vacation at Beppu, where Chang also was resting after the collapse of his revolt against the Nationalists in Shantung. The prince had visited Chang on the evening of the shooting.

Stomach Troubles Are Due to Acidity

Tells of Pleasant Home Treatment—
Brings Swift Relief

So-called Stomach Troubles—indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, sourness, etc., are, in probably nine cases out of ten, evidence of "too much acid in the stomach," souring the food, causing the formation of gas and starting acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes a full, oppressive burning feeling known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining. Get rid of Gas and Acidity, and you get rid of Indigestion.

To stop or prevent the sourness and gas, to neutralize the stomach acids and keep the stomach sweet and free from indigestion, a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bismarck Magnesia should be taken in a little water after eating or whenever gas, sourness, pain or acidity is felt. This quickly sweetens the stomach, neutralizes the acidity, stops the pain and is harmless and inexpensive to use.

Bismarck Magnesia, powder or tablets only, can be obtained from any drug store and its daily use keeps the stomach in fine condition, enabling it to do its work without the aid of artificial digestants. (Adv.)

NEW MOVE FOR COAST RAILWAY LINK TO PEACE

Mayor Malkin of Vancouver Suggests Committee of Business Men Work

Terminal City Leader, Back From Tour, Talks of Possibilities

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—Mayor W. H. Malkin returned here this morning from his trip with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce delegates through the Peace River district filled with a vast enthusiasm for its potentialities and proposing a plan of action to bring about rail connection between the Peace area and the coast.

"We must not let the enthusiasm generated on this trip pass away," he said. "I propose that we form a committee of young energetic business men to work for rail connection with the district and keep working until we get action."

"From Prince George to the eastern boundary of the British Columbia Block it is approximately 300 miles," the mayor said. "It was told me that a railway a railroad could be built to that eastern boundary from Prince George at about $40,000 a mile, or $12,000,000—approximately the cost of a good hotel. My idea is that one of the great transportation companies should build that section of the line. In this all British Columbia should stand united."

"With the Prince George connection built, the next logical step would be for a transportation company to lease or take over the P.E. Railway and extend it from Quenelle to the terminus of the other line. We would then have a coast rail connection. I am not sure, but I believe the whole thing could be done for $15,000,000, a small investment as modern financing goes."

FIRST STEP
"An immediate step, however, should be taken to extend the Alberta Northern, operated jointly by the C.P.R. and C.N.R., beyond its present Peace River terminus fifty miles to the B.C. Block to accommodate the tremendous number of farmers who are now required to haul their grain overland to the railroad."

The eyes of the chemists in a spot of light on the wall of a University of Minnesota lecture room. Like a moving finger it wrote the forecast of a revolution in physical chemistry. This revolution was described enthusiastically by Dr. Taylor.

"It opens up the way to finding an entire new species of molecule. It is the first proof of something forecast mathematically by the new wave mechanics. It means our texts on physical chemistry will have to be rewritten."

"The discovery has no present commercial value, but the new world in chemistry it seems to open is very important."

$15,000 Bail On Narcotic Charge

Vancouver, Sept. 11.—Bail of $15,000 was fixed by Judge Ruggles today in the case of Nip Gar, alias Jang Shee, Chinese woman, committed to police court for trial on charges of distributing narcotic drugs.

FEDERAL-PROVINCIAL CONTROL OF RADIO IS COMMISSION'S PLAN

In making public the report, Mr. Cardin said he was well satisfied with the commissioners and their work. The report will be submitted first to the technical officers of the department. Later it will be placed before the Cabinet. To put the recommendations into effect would necessitate important legislation.

INVESTIGATION WAS BROAD
The principal recommendations of the commission, made after a lengthy investigation, which included hearings at public sessions in Canada from coast to coast and visits to Great Britain and other European countries, and the United States, are:

"That broadcast stations should be placed on a basis of public service and that the stations providing a service of this kind should be owned and operated by one national company."

"That Provincial authorities should have full control over the programmes of the station or stations in their respective areas."

"That the company should be known as the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Company; that it should be vested with all the powers of a private enterprise, and that its status and duties should correspond to those of a public utility."

DIRECTORS IN PROVINCE
"That a provincial radio broadcasting director should be appointed for each province, to have full control of the programmes broadcast by the station or stations located within the boundaries of the province for which he is responsible."

"That a provincial advisory council on radio broadcasting should be appointed for each province, to act in an advisory capacity through the provincial authority."

"That the board of the company should be composed of twelve members, three more particularly representing the Dominion and one representing each of the provinces."

"That high-power stations should be erected across Canada to give good reception over the entire settled area of the country during daylight; that the nucleus of the system should possibly be seven 50,000-watt stations, this supplementary stations of lower power should be erected in local areas not effectively covered by the main stations, if found necessary and as expenses might indicate."

PROVISIONAL SYSTEM
"That pending the inauguration and completion of the proposed system, a provisional service should be provided through certain of the existing stations which should be continued in operation by the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Company; that the stations chosen for this provisional service should be those which give the maximum coverage without duplication, and that all remaining stations not so needed should be closed down."

COMPENSATION FOR OWNERS
"That compensation should be allowed owners of existing stations for apparatus in use as may be decided by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries; that such apparatus should become the property of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Company; that the more modern and efficient of these sets of apparatus should be held available for re-equipment in local areas not effectively served by the high-power stations, and that the cost of compensation should be met out of an appropriation made by Parliament."

REVENUE PLANS
"That expenditures necessary for the operation and maintenance of the proposed broadcasting service should be met out of revenue produced by license fees, rental of time on stations for programmes employing indirect advertisement and a subsidy from the Dominion Government."

"That all facilities should be made to permit of chain broadcasting by all the stations or in groups; that while the primary purpose should be to provide programmes of high standard from Canadian sources, programmes of similar order should be also sought from other sources."

"That time should be made available for firms or others desiring to put on advertising; that no direct advertising should be allowed; that specified time should be made available for educational work; that where religious broadcasting is allowed, there should be regulations prohibiting statements of a controversial nature of one religion making an attack upon the leaders of another; that the broadcasting of political matters should be mutually restricted under arrangements mutually agreed upon by all political parties concerned, and that competent and cultured announcers only should be employed."

"That consideration should be given to the question of introducing legislation which would compel users of electrical apparatus causing interference with broadcast reception to suppress or eliminate the same at their own expense."

"That the licensing of stations and radio-telegraph Act and regulations issued thereunder for the control of main stations in general should remain within the jurisdiction of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and that that authority should continue to be responsible for the collection of license fees and the suppression of inductive interference causing difficulties with radio reception."

For ages the favorite color of Chinese officials has been yellow.

BUSINESS LEADERS OF CANADA MEETING

RAPID GAINS
"It is the very easiest and confident hope of myself and of all my colleagues that the remarkable progress of Canada may continue at a rapid rate; and that the free, the happy and the mutually advantageous association which unites her with Great Britain may be strengthened," said the Prime Minister of Great Britain in his message.

Edmonton, Sept. 11.—The delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, holding their first business session here this forenoon, were welcomed to Alberta by Lieut.-Governor William Egbert, Premier J. E. Brownlee, the Mayor of Edmonton and the mayor of Calgary and the presidents of the boards of these two convention cities.

Dr. E. G. Spero, a member of the British Parliament, read messages of greeting from Premier Ramsay MacDonald and others.

W. M. Birks, of Montreal, delivered the annual presidential address and W. M. Clarke, of Montreal, read his annual report as secretary.

TRADE DISCUSSION
President Birks, in the course of his address, on the subject, "Our Economic Partnership," said that though "men realized this was an interesting period in Canada's development. In total trade the country ranked fifth among the nations, was third in favorable balance of trade and in that respect, if taken on a per capita basis, was the first in the world."

Empire free trade, he believed, was not yet practical, but freer trade was, if at the same time the economic blockade to the south was faced.

U.S. TARIFF TREND
At Washington the chairman of the Government tariff commission had told the chamber that the United States tariff was "an American internal question only, that it was American 100 per cent and that it gave not an iota of consideration to anything outside their gates."

"To that I say 'Amen.' I both understand and admire that sort of language," said Mr. Birks. "On the other hand, Right Hon. J. H. Thomas, now visiting Canada, tells us with all courtesy that we buy from the United States $4 for every $1 we buy from the Motherland."

"It is not for us to talk politics," continued Mr. Birks, "but shall we not ask our Government to reduce this discrepancy? Doubtless we can not out the $4 to $1, but shall we, say, reduce it to $2 by free trade, by what the States call protection, or the English call safeguarding?"

CONFEDERATION BUILDING
"There was a time," Mr. Birks went on, "when American prosperity might have lured us, but we were out of her markets and forced to trade east and west. Older men here remember when it looked as though we were condemned to live in a back eddy, if not in a backwash, against this pressure from the south. The Fathers of Confederation built better than they knew. God made our stars."

"To-day we hear of yet higher tariff walls against us. We still have the spirit once more to turn an adverse situation to our advantage. For us, it is Canada first and Empire next."

"Inter-Imperial trade is the question of the hour and after that all the friendly foreign trade—we can secure," said Mr. Birks.

"With increasingly higher tariffs being focused against Canada, said Mr. Birks, neighbors were willing to sell to their largest customer, but were unwilling to buy from him. "These methods are such that a shipment from us can be held at the border, and their tariff by the stroke of a pen made prohibitive almost overnight," said the president. "Stability of any export trade we develop is admittedly impossible."

NEW UNITED
Edmonton, Sept. 11.—That contemplated high United States tariff rates would be an incentive to all British Empire peoples to draw closer together, economically and mentally, was the belief expressed by Dr. E. G. Spero, British M.P., at to-day's session of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce convention here.

Dr. Spero said he wished to encourage Canada to purchase manufactured goods "from your best customer," not in competition with local goods, but with those of foreign countries. The speaker realized that every day the influence of 120,000,000 people living next-door was being exercised through the radio and magazines. Students here in some instances were being taught British history and British traditions through the medium of books written and printed in the United States. Probably these things were not influencing the future Canadians one iota, he said, but the soil was gradually and surely being prepared for the reception of such seed.

HEIRS LOSE ACTION FOR QUARRY TITLE

END NOT IN SIGHT
Mr. Justice McDonald refuses to believe the end is yet in sight to the litigation involving the quarry's title.

"It is not an unfair suggestion to make that if the present action should turn out to be unsuccessful another number of members of one of these families will commence another action so that litigation regarding this property may go on till time shall be no more," commented the judge.

The suit was prosecuted by heirs of Alden Wesley Huxon, Henry Rudge and Samuel Gray, who owned Haddington Island thirty-six years ago, when they mortgaged it for $3,500.

ALREADY DECIDED
On the broad ground that points in issue had been already decided in previous actions, the judge found for the plaintiffs' allegations of fraud, the judge found for the defendants.

They included the Haddington Island Quarry Company Limited, J. A. Macdonald and C. H. Macdonald, who were represented by W. Martin Griffin, K.C., and J. J. Coughlan, whose counsel was A. C. Desbriay, W. J. Taylor, K. C., a defendant, was his own counsel.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., appeared for the plaintiffs.

Seven years ago, by arrangement, the property was divided in the proportion of half to Taylor, one-third to Coughlan and a twelfth each to J. A. Macdonald and C. H. Macdonald.

The plaintiffs alleged a sale in 1908 of the property for $3,250 was considerably less than the real value, and they sought to redeem the quarry, which had been mortgaged by their deceased relatives. On this phase, Mr. Justice McDonald stated he was not prepared to find the price was under value.

1929 Marks a New Period in EVENING GOWNS

The return of elegance to the mode reveals fashion's amazing cleverness at individuality, for when lines are so important a feature of the mode, they must be versatile enough to become many different types of figures and still give the same elegant feminine silhouette.

There are two outstanding evening silhouettes this winter, the one of the stiffer fabrics or tulle which gives a youthful floating effect as it flares out toward the bottom. The other is dignified, sophisticated, fashioned of soft printed satins and supple velvets, gracefully adaptable to the artful draperies so essentially a part of this modern silhouette.

WORK AMONG PLANT LIFE

HOW MANY PEOPLE REALIZE WHEN they pass the well-ordered Dominion Experimental Farm at Saanichton just what is going on from day to day at that important institution? The members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon yesterday were let into some of the secrets about the work which Dr. William Newton is doing there in his capacity as pathologist.

It would be difficult for the lay mind to grasp the full significance of the war on diseases of plant life which is being waged in the laboratories at Saanichton. But from what Dr. Newton said in his address yesterday, we may accept as authentic the statement that the discovery of a cure for virus diseases in the realm of vegetables and plants may lead the way to still more important preventives and curatives of great value to the human race.

The value of the work Dr. Newton is doing was brought convincingly to the notice of his audience by his description of how a disease which had attacked the hop vines of the Fraser Valley had been arrested and a valuable crop saved. A discovery so valuable, of course, will be given to the world, and credit will go to Canada's institution at Saanichton.

Dr. Newton said: "If we are going to get ahead, we need the support of every businessman of Victoria for the Saanichton laboratory." It would be safe to say that this support will not be sought in vain.

OUR SOCIAL LEGISLATION PRAISED

HAD MR. PATTULLO HEARD THE AD-dress Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Labor in the Tolmie Government, delivered to the International Typographical Union delegates who visited Victoria last Sunday, he would have warmed with pride. The Minister told the visitors that British Columbia had pioneered in the realm of social legislation and now easily led the whole continent in this regard.

Mr. McKenzie, of course, was quite correct in his statement. During the regime of the late Government in this province such important measures as the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Mothers' Pensions Act, the Old Age Pensions Act, the Equal Guardianship of Children Act, and the Adoption Act were put upon the statute books. It is only natural, therefore, that the Minister of Labor should take the opportunity which was afforded him on Sunday of telling visiting trades union members from the United States that British Columbia had established a reputation for itself in passing so many laws of such benefit to the worker and the family of the ordinary people.

We doubt, however, whether the enthusiastic manner in which Mr. McKenzie alluded to British Columbia's social legislation would strike a sympathetic chord in the breast of the Minister of Finance, who last session urged the Legislature "to view with caution and concern any further proposals of a paternal nature."

FAIRNESS IS GOOD BUSINESS

SOME LITTLE TIME AGO THE ROCKY Mountain Fuel Company sought to insure industrial peace in its coal mines by introducing more liberal wage scales, working rules and methods of dealing with its employees. A recent report from the president of the concern indicates that the effort has been highly successful.

After citing increased sales tonnage and production under the new regime, his reports says:

"The men employed in and around the mines of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company received an average wage of $7.95 per day during the first quarter of 1929. While the wage contract increased the earnings of the men, as we desired it should, it has not resulted in increased production costs, because of the co-operation and increased efficiency which have characterized the new relationship.

"The effective working of the contract is further shown by the fact that the pit committees and mine superintendents are satisfactorily settling complaints. Only two cases in eleven months have been appealed from the decisions of the pit committees and superintendents."

This is extremely gratifying news. It is becoming increasingly evident that a humanitarian policy is, after all, only good business.

CANADA'S STABILITY

TO THE FINANCIAL TIMES OF LON-don, England, which enjoys the largest circulation of any financial newspaper in the world, Lord Queenborough has written from this country, saying he is amazed by the stability and progress of Canada.

Lord Queenborough is described as a former rancher and farmer in the United States, and now a railway director and electrical magnate. He was immensely impressed by what he saw in Ontario and in Manitoba—from which province he sent his article to London—and says that "educational establishments are as fine as any in the world, and there is a job for every man who wants to work." He finally sums up as follows: "This is the Canada of to-day, and I must say I cannot visualize a country with more prosperous institutions and where, as a field for investment, more satisfactory returns can be secured."

This is what most Canadians think about their country, as no doubt Lord Queenborough discovered from his conversations with people at the various points he has visited. He is obviously not a recruit to the noisy little blue-ruin brigade which is trying to make us believe Canada is going to the bow-wows.

INCONSISTENT MR. CHURCHILL

WHEN RT. HON. PHILIP SNOWDEN returned to London from The Hague recently he "went on the air" and told a huge invisible audience all about the reparations business and gave the reasons for the stand he took in Great Britain's behalf. Press and public seemed to be almost as much pleased with this utterance as they did with his stonewall defence of the British position at the Dutch capital.

Now that all the applause has died down, however, we surmise that the Chancellor of the Exchequer is somewhat amused when he reviews the change of front which took place among those who so roundly criticized him when he warned the House of Commons, before the election, that if a Labor Government were returned to power, it would not feel bound by the Baldwin Government's policy in regard to war debts and reparations. That Government interpreted his declaration as a threat of repudiation which ought to be prevented by the election.

Among Mr. Snowden's critics at that time was none other than the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Winston Churchill, who now seems to have seen a great white light, for he recently told his audiences that, if he now were in power, he would have done what his successor did. Mr. Snowden, no doubt, will add this inconsistency of his opponents to his collection of incidents concerning the mutations of party politics.

WHAT IS A "REASONABLE RETURN"?

ON THE FRONT PAGE OF THE VAN-couver Daily Province yesterday the following dispatch from Ottawa appeared:

A report on the electric railways of Canada for the year 1928 has just been issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, from which it appears that the British Columbia Electric stands third in Canada, and in several respects first, among fifty-nine companies whose returns are included. In order, the four companies are: Montreal, Toronto, British Columbia and Winnipeg, although the last named might be described as "also ran."

Returns from the B.C. Electric are as follows: Gross earnings, $5,923,284; operating expenses, $4,732,789; net earnings, $1,190,494; total income, $3,046,981; taxes paid, $357,652; interest on funded debt, $850,404; surplus, $2,503,178; reserves and special charges, $961,646; dividends, $1,701,808; miles of track, 304; passengers carried, 77,243,646; tons of freight, 529,648; motormen and conductors, 1,240; total employees, 2,257; salaries and wages paid, $3,611,061.

It is interesting to note that it exceeds Montreal in dividends paid three times, and also pays more taxes by considerable than any other company. Only six companies in Canada out of fifty-nine are reported as paying dividends. These are Vancouver, Cape Breton, Montreal, New Brunswick Power Company, Nova Scotia Transportation and Power Company, and Winnipeg. On the whole, for financial results and for per capita returns, the British Columbia company makes easily the best showing in Canada.

Flourishing British Columbia concerns make a good advertisement for this Province. But British Columbia has another interest in the announcement contained in the dispatch we have quoted above. If the British Columbia Electric Railway Company has done so well—and the statement of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics will not be questioned—it would appear that a good case has been made out in support of Victoria's right to lower power rates.

It will be recalled that the company defended itself in its recent controversy with the city of Vancouver with the statement that all it asked was a "reasonable return" for the money its shareholders had invested.

The figures show that after the reasonable return had been turned over to the investors there was a surplus of $2,500,000!

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

JAPAN AND DISARMAMENT

The Winnipeg Tribune

That there should be no misunderstanding of Japan's attitude on the question of naval disarmament, the London ambassador of that power has made the position clear. Textually this important contribution to the literature of effort for world peace states:

"It should be the fixed resolve of all the powers to secure an international agreement not only for the limitation, but also for the substantial reduction of armaments. The sincerity of our attitude in this matter has been frequently evidenced in the past. Although the attempt to reach an agreement on the question has encountered repeated difficulties, the increasing public demand for an understanding seems to have drawn nearer the day of its realization. We believe that there will be no difficulty in attaining this great international aim if the powers come together in a spirit of mutual concession and compromise, giving full consideration to the circumstances of each country and making national safety the basic principle of agreement."

HONESTY AND PENMANSHIP

The Manchester Guardian

"I have always found," said Mr. Justice Eve in a Chancery Court case yesterday, "that those whose handwriting is legible are honest and agreeable people." His sentiment will be warmly echoed at least by every printer who has ever sought to give the written word more durable shape. But it is to be hoped for the sake of the men of letters that the implied corollary must not be taken as too binding, for if the illegible writer were to be considered lacking both in honesty and agreeableness the ranks of literature would be decimated of good fellows. Only those who have handled or suffered the manuscript, for instance, of ad prolific and this a writer as the late Andrew Lang can realize how profoundly subversive is Mr. Justice Eve's suggestion, for if legibility were a test of good citizenship, Lang, whose script was apt to resemble the uncharted peregrinations of an ink-stained fly over a fair sheet, would certainly have deserved penal servitude. And in our own day even unquestionable knights both of the quill and of the social community as, say, Professor Saintsbury and Mr. Cunningham Graham could hardly hope to escape some measure of pretty severe punishment. The fact is, as the Society for Pure English has amply proved in a couple of its most engaging tracts, that it is character, rather than copperplate that distinguishes a hand. Were it otherwise, the forgers, whose penmanship, whatever its other qualities, make a point of legibility, would take high place as a desirable citizen—an elevation that Mr. Justice Eve, we do not doubt, would be the first to deplore. To write legibly is a courtesy—a great thing, but less than a virtue.

A THOUGHT

No man also having drunk old wine straightway desirous new for he saith, the old is better.—St. Luke 9:40.

Old wood best to burn; old wine to drink; old friends to trust and old authors to read.—Bacon.

Loose Ends

Victoria seems strangely familiar after two weeks' absence—with the pigeons nesting in the old place—tragedy still haunting the park—and Dr. Tolmie selling the P.O.E.—but in the wilds they think they know us better than we know ourselves.

By H. B. W.

WHEN you come back to Victoria after a couple of weeks in the wilds it is rather a shock to see that the town is much the same as when you left it. So much has usually happened to you in the meantime that you have a vague notion that by this time Government Street will be lined with skyscrapers and Wharf Street converted into a luxurious waterfront promenade. Besides, if you have been to the interior wilds of this province you will have heard so much about Victoria, pro and con, that you are eager to see what it has been up to in your absence to cause all this outside interest in it.

In the interior they have many strange and sometimes not very flattering ideas about us, for Victoria is the seat of a government which seems rather commonplace to us, because it is so close, but which means a very great deal to the homesteader around Quesset or the prospector on Lightning Creek. Victoria is watched by those frontier people much more carefully than by us who live here; and on the whole I think their opinion on the events around James Bay is much better informed than ours.

In the log cabins of Cariboo you will find that they know exactly what Mr. Pooley was doing last week, and they can tell you all about Mr. Shelly's last Budget, which everyone on the Coast has forgotten, except Mr. Shelly, who probably wishes he could forget it. On the whole, after hearing these expert opinions on the Capital, you come back feeling that many strange things go on here under your nose which you never suspected.

YOU come back, too, with a certain feeling of selfishness, for to live in Victoria, even if you make your living collecting garbage or writing for the newspapers, is to live not far off from Paradise, after some of the places you see on the frontier. The poorest house in Victoria is a palace compared with some of the log cabins of furthest Cariboo, and the poorest man here is rich compared with many of the people there. It is too bad, but it is not surprising, therefore, that in the wilderness they sometimes think of Victoria and Vancouver as fattening luxuriously on the cream of British Columbia, while they paw wood and draw water "Aye," said one old Scotch prospector who has a claim near the road to Barkerville and works it single-handed with incredible labor, "aye, Victoria and Vancouver are the Sodom and Gomorrah of this Province."

AFTER all this I felt amazed and a little disappointed on coming back here to find everything so little changed, the city busy with the last of the season's tourists, the centre of government still doing in the grip of parting summer and Miss Ursus Ker-model still imprisoned in Beacon Hill Park.

THIS last was the most unkindest cut of all, for while I never expected that the City Council would release this unfortunate creature while it was being publicly urged by this column to do so, on the other hand, I had hoped that it might display some better feelings when the matter was temporarily forgotten, to prove its independence of thought. To find her still behind the bars and the Council still at large is a disappointment. It makes me think that the Scotch prospector of the Barkerville Road may have known what he was talking about.

INCIDENTALLY, at the risk of shattering the City Hall's most cherished illusion, I am able now to state that Miss Ursus isn't much of a bear anyway. She isn't half as interesting as the ordinary black-colored bears that you may see anywhere along the Great North Road feasting on blueberries and viewing you with intelligent interest. Miss Ursus has been in prison so long and gazed so often upon the gold-tooth smile of idle curiosity that she long ago ceased to take an intelligent interest in anything. All she has to offer is her white coat, and it's usually pretty black.

IF the City Council is determined to introduce wild life into Victoria, let it get some exhibits from the North, where bears are stars and a poor undernourished, downtrodden, broken-spirited spinster like Miss Ursus wouldn't last ten minutes.

I COME back also to find that the pigeons still live on the stone statues of the Parliament Buildings, nesting on the bosom of provincial statesmanship. This column will have to give up championing ruined causes, or ruining hopeful ones.

MR. CHURCHILL, it appears, has been here lately and has left an aftermath of praise and criticism among the intellectuals of the town. On one side I find half the population hailing Mr. Churchill as the man who will save the Empire, and the other half confident that he will sink it if he ever gets a chance.

THERE seems to be a lot of interest also in Mr. Churchill's facility for changing his mind, and one school of intellectuals holds it against him that he started life as a Conservative, saw the error of his ways, became a Liberal, saw the error of his ways a second time and became a Conservative. For my part I find that the most satisfactory feature of a great career, for if there weren't a few people like Mr. Churchill to depart from the ways of their grandfathers, tiger skins would still be fashionable for fall and winter wear and dinosaur eggs got standard diet. And besides, each political party has the satisfaction of knowing that Mr. Churchill has affiliated himself with it at one time in his career or, conversely, that he has at least once got out of it. Which party will derive the greatest satisfaction out of this consideration is a difficult question to answer.

IT was also discovered on my return here that Premier Tolmie is in Ottawa again, and it is reliably reported around James Bay (as it has been reliably reported for generations) that he is selling the P.O.E. At the risk of seeming a hopeless pessimist, and even though I am utterly alone in this view, I still feel somehow that the P.O.E. has not been sold.

New Committee Is To Increase Canada's Trade With Australia

Vancouver, Sept. 10.—"One of the most tangible benefits of the Canadian-Australian Treaty, from the Australian standpoint, is the vastly increased consumption in Canada of Australian raisins and canned fruits," said R. C. Haynes, Australian trade

Powder Means Much to Me

By Edna Wallace Hopper

The average woman considers the actress hopelessly ahead of her in the art of enhancing natural beauty. The reason for this advantage is that the actress makes a business of attracting and she must "know how." It is her bread and butter.

In the matter of powder, for instance, my forty-odd years on the stage have made me almost unbelievably exacting. I never considered the cost of my powder, so long as it pleased me. After years of searching I found in France the powder that now adds the last touch to my careful toilette. It satisfies me because it has the one quality I have found in no other powder. That is, it blends so smoothly with the texture of my skin that my face never looks "made up" when I am offstage.

Because it lends such natural bloom to call it my Youth Powder. In the immense quantities now produced I am able to offer it to women at a low price.

If your skin requires a clinging powder I advise using my Youth Powder.

Flesh, brunette or white. (Advt.)

commissioner in Canada, in an interview here last night. Canada this year had purchased all available supplies of Australian canned fruits, he said, while Australia had reciprocated by absorbing British Columbia's exportable surplus of canned salmon. There was now under consideration in Vancouver, Mr. Haynes said, the formation of an Australian committee, composed of Vancouver exporters and business men. This committee would be formed with a view to studying inter-Dominion trade problems. It was hoped that by this means obstacles might be removed and a good understanding established.

HAIRCUT CALL TAKES BARBER ACROSS OCEAN

London, Sept. 11.—The problem of getting a proper haircut for William F. Kennedy, New York millionaire contractor, is raising almost as much discussion in England as the British United States naval negotiations. The British immigration officials have been brought into the case, holding the New York barber, who was summoned to London by Mr. Kennedy, must obtain an official permit before he can apply the shears to his client's head.

Several of the newspapers have printed pictures of the New York contractor, and have rather unkindly pointed out the lack of a haircut on the top of his head.

They asked why he should find difficulty in getting a proper haircut from British barbers in view of the rather limited field offered for their skill.

Meanwhile Louis A. Rico, a New York barber, is steaming toward London aboard the Leviathan. Whether he will be permitted to land as a barber or only as an individual tourist is a moot question.

A total of $2,127,851, or a daily average of $70,921, was collected from 503 commercial vessels and ten yachts passing through the Panama Canal in June.

MANY GUESTS AT SMART WEDDING THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Vivian Matson Becomes Bride of Dr. P. A. C. Cousland; Service at St. John's

One of the smartest weddings of the season drew a large congregation to St. John's Church this afternoon at 2.30 for the ceremony which united in marriage Vivian Louise Prins, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. H. Matson, of "West Bay," Esquimalt, and Dr. Philip Alexander Clyde Cousland, youngest son of Dr. P. A. C. Cousland, of 2009 Granite Street, Oak Bay. The Bishop of Columbia, Rev. C. de V. Schofield, officiated.

A bevy of friends of the bride, headed by Miss Pooley and Mrs. H. T. Matson, were responsible for the beautiful decorations of the church, masses of late summer flowers being used on the chancel rails and in the archway and to mark the guest pews, white and pink and mauve shades predominating.

Entering the church with her father, the bride made an attractive picture in her wedding gown of white satin lined with pink, with slender fitting bodice and long tight sleeves, and a full ruffled skirt of uneven hemline. With it she wore an exquisite cap arrangement of old Venetian lace over a filmy tulle veil of net lined with palest pink and edged with pearls, a bandeau of tiny orange blossoms confining the veil to the hair and adding the traditional touch. Her only ornament was a string of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Sheila Russell of Vancouver, Miss Lucy Bryden, Miss Elizabeth Macdonald, Miss Valerie Tye were the bridesmaids. All were dressed alike in early Victorian crinoline frocks of pink tulle and tulle, with the bodice and skirt formed of alternating rows of frilled tulle and tulle, caught with French flowers. Their quaint poke bonnets were of cream straw, lined with pink, with long blue velvet strings tied over one ear with French flowers. All carried Colonial bouquets.

Little Miss Mary Matson, niece of the bride, and Master Andrew Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Errol Gillespie, acted as trainbearers; the little girl being dressed in a replica of the bride's dresses, fashioned of pink tulle and tulle. The little page wore a quaint Oliver Twist suit of pink and white. Mr. Jack Matson, brother of the bride, was groomsmen, and the ushers were Messrs. Rawley Matthews, Francis Pennington, Bobby Tye, Dr. H. E. Rice-wood and Capt. W. C. Merritt.

The service was fully choral and Dr. Jennings Burnett presided at the organ. After the ceremony the bridal party and several hundred guests repaired to "West Bay" where the reception was held. The bride and bridegroom received the felicitations of their friends in the drawing room, which was lovely with masses of pink dahlias and hydrangeas. The buffet luncheon was served in a large marquee on the lawn, and here the bride cut the wedding cake and Major A. D. Macdonald proposed her health in traditional fashion.

Mrs. Matson, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in beige lace with a Gainsborough hat of beige crinoline with sable ostrich plume, and a sable necklet, and Mrs. Cousland chose an ensemble of blue ring-velvet with hat to match.

After a honeymoon spent in motor-ing through the States, Dr. and Mrs. Cousland will reside at Central Avenue, Oak Bay. The bride chose for her traveling gown a becoming ensemble of brick-colored georgette with hat of lace and felt to tone. The bride is a member of one of the best known pioneer families on Vancouver Island, her father being the proprietor of The Daily Colonist, and her presents were unusually beautiful.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Coles, Col. Broome, and Mrs. W. W. Caswell and Miss Blais, all of Chemainus, Mrs. Lillian Russell, of Vancouver, and Col. and Mrs. Reginald Chaplin of Vancouver.

The wedding of interest to many Victoria friends of the bridegroom took place yesterday afternoon at Summerland, when Rev. H. A. Bolly united in marriage Alleen Alannah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McPherson Sutherland, of Greenwood, Conn., and Paymaster-Lieut. Rupert Anthony Wright, R.C.N. of Esquimalt.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Ross Sutherland of Victoria, the bride looked fascinating in her gown of ivory satin, simply fashioned, with skirt of uneven hemline, touching the ground in points. A train of Limerick lace fell from the shoulders and over this was draped the wedding veil of embroidered tulle, an heirloom worn by the bridegroom's grandmother and by her mother on their wedding day.

Alumnae Will Furnish New Reception Room

The Jubilee Alumnae Association decided at the meeting held Monday evening that the association would furnish a reception room in the new Nurses' Home. Tentative plans for raising the necessary money for the project were made and committees appointed. These plans include a hope chest, bridge party and rummage sale. Miss Sydney Fatt was appointed secretary in place of Miss Maureen Cudde, whose marriage took place recently. A gratifying number of the 1929 class joined the Alumnae. The usual monthly social meetings will be held at the homes of members, Monday, October 14.

Your guests will praise your home-made mustard pickles

EVERY year, more and more women are making their own mustard pickles, and with Colman's Mustard. They know it's a mark of distinction and good taste to have home-made mustard pickles on their tables.
Decide now to make mustard pickles in your own kitchen this year. By doing this you can select the combination of vegetables you like best— assure high standards of quality, purity and flavour — practice true economy — and win praise from your guests and members of your own family.

FREE — Send for a copy of the booklet we have prepared, containing many recipes and full instructions on how to make all kinds of mustard pickles.

GUIDERS READY FOR COMPANIES

Girl Guide Association Hears Encouraging Reports

At the meeting of the local association of Girl Guides held on Monday evening at headquarters, Miss Wigley, president, congratulated the members on having secured the services of Mrs. R. Guthrie as convener of the badge committee, and mentioned that two other new members, Mrs. Prior and Miss Mansford, were now taking an active part in the work of the association.

Correspondence included a letter from Miss Snyder of the Social Service League, expressing appreciation of the cheery helpfulness of two rangers, Miss Joan Watts and Miss Marjorie Marshall, who had given voluntary service at Sunshine Camp. She hoped for a continuance of such friendly aid at next year's camp. A donation was received from Mrs. A. C. Burdick, with a covering letter of encouragement.

Arrangements were made to assist in the entertainment to be given at the Y.W.C.A. fair in October.

The camp report was held over until next meeting. Miss Hilda Leighton, camp adviser, being indisposed. Mrs. Phillips, commissioner for Victoria West district, said there was need of more guides for Browne packs.

Miss Aline Stewart Williams, captain of the 1st Ranger Company, announced that several rangers were now ready to take up work as guides in companies. She stated that the company had secured first prize at the Provincial Exhibition for their nature exhibit. Miss A. B. Cooke noted that one of the bursaries donated annually by the I.O.B.E. had been awarded to

YOUNGSTERS PUT ON CLEVER SHOW

The movies and sundry other entertainers of the young must look to their laurels, especially in the summer, for there is in Oak Bay a clever group of little people yet not in their teens, who not only have the originality, but the acumen to put on a very successful "show," as they did last Saturday.

Lawrie Davis, Bud Faginman and David Warner, ably assisted by Jack Morton, Robert Murdoch, Craig Campbell, Kenneth Waterman, Arthur Poyntz, and two young ladies, Gladys Warner and Ruth Faginman, were the designers.

builders and artists who carried through a most unusual entertainment.

There were all the attractions of a local fair, and some a good deal better—the wheel of fortune, the museum, the guessing contest, the prize-for-all-comers, and always in the offing the ubiquitous ice cream cone. In fact it was an education in side-shows, and the mothers of Oak Bay would have been warranted in paying a penny an hour for all the little folk entertained there all day. It takes many a penny to make $40, which was the sum raised, and all of which has been handed to the Queen Alexandra Bazaar for the benefit of the little people, who are not so fortunate. Thanks are also due to Mr. H. H. D. Colley, who each year stands behind the young ice cream merchants to start them on the way to prosperity.

India is practically a soapless country.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF SCIENCE

Man's Mastery of Science

WORKING far into the night by the guttering light of tapers, chemists of old played their small part in the development of many products of today.

Substances such as Duco, which has revolutionized the paint industry; Fabrikoid, which has replaced leather in well-nigh imperishable form; Pyralin, from which is made beautiful toiletware, are examples of what can be accomplished with the aid of chemical engineers.

Canadian Industries Limited, through its affiliation with Imperial Chemical Industries Limited, of Great Britain, and E. I. duPont de Nemours & Company, Inc., of the United States, shares the results of the scientific research of these great companies.

Any product bearing the oval trade-mark shown here carries the guarantee of inherent excellence.

have read your column for some time and surely enjoy it. I am coming to you with a problem that seems small in comparison to some that you answer. I have a boy nearly seventeen months old who weighs twenty-six pounds, and as he weighed only four and one-half pounds at birth I think this is pretty good. He has sixteen teeth and another is nearly through. I never know when a new one is coming as he is never cross. He goes to bed at 7:30 and sleeps straight through until 6 or 7. He eats anything and never has to be forced or coaxed. Now my problem is that in his sleep he twitches and jerks and is awfully restless. Do you think it is nervousness, and how shall I correct it?

ANSWER

Strong and active children of alert minds are very apt to play to the point of extreme fatigue. The whole world is so fascinating that their brains are constantly stimulated. Add to this the labor of running about all day and you can understand why the child will go to bed and be unable to relax and rest quietly.

Put the child to bed directly after lunch and manage a rest period, if not a nap, by giving him some non-exciting toy to play with, or keep him quiet by reading him some drowsy stories. If books stimulate him too much, do not let him look at them. If he uses his muscles more and his brain less he'll be better off for the time being, since mental activities excite him too much.

Be careful, too, about pre-bedtime romps. The child may laugh and scream with pleasure during the romp but afterwards he is unable to settle down. His nerves are still jumping even though he falls asleep.

Even tiny babies show this disposition to jump and jerk in their sleep. They need more rest and more placid handling. Holding a tiny baby is a stimulant to him. He needs some of this for his best development, but the more nervous he is, the less he needs to be handled and stimulated. Such babies need quiet and calm voices and much sleep. The mother of each baby and child who shows these nervous symptoms will know best what to eliminate in his day in order to bring about greater repose and more restful slumber.

PRENATAL CARE

Is a subject which is always of paramount importance to a large group of readers. Babies are always expected somewhere in the neighborhood, and too much care can never be lavished upon the proper preparation for those babies.

Record Number of Hunters to Trek Woods Over Week-end

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Dry Weather To Hamper Season On Blue Grouse

SEVERAL DAYS ago a story appeared that a movie company has offered Bobby Jones $50,000 for two weeks' sport picture. It was a thriller for at least twenty-four hours, and all that money must have been exceedingly painful to some athletes. But a day later the news came out that Bobby had refused it after all. The most generous of all amateurs—and he is the most glorious—didn't even have the audacity to refuse it. The offer never was made.

D. Scott Chisholm, who has been well-known as a golfer and golf writer for many years, pulled off a neat stunt recently in Los Angeles. Two years ago Chisholm asked Bobby Jones if he would play a game for charity if he ever went to California. Jones said he would. Hearing that Jones had entered the U.S. amateur tournament at Pebble Beach, Chisholm tried and asked him if he remembered his promise of two years ago. Jones remembered. He went to Los Angeles a few days ahead of his schedule, and played in Chisholm's tournament on L.A. Country Club course, helping to raise $15,000 for a local fund donated to the care of crippled children.

Art Hottel, San Francisco fight promoter, jarred fight fans when he announced that he had signed up a non-title match between Jackie Fields, the new world's welter champion, and Gordie Jones, under a condition that Jones must weigh in at 149 pounds. It was thought that Fields, who has been a daring fighter during his drive to the title, would be an exception to the rest of the play-safe champions, and cut out the modern business trick of forcing natural rivals to fight up.

The average fight fan has little respect for any champion who does not risk by making opponents come in over the weight limit. They have less respect for boxing commissions that allow this peculiar brand of fighting.

Coch Warner, Stanford football guide, announces that he is looking over this year's material for "brains." All Warner wants is to discover a brain, walking around on good strong legs, and he'll soon have his football team.

Hereditarily counted for a great deal in the eastern championship, little Miss "Dodo" Bundy, at the ripe age of twelve, gives promise of following in her famous parents' footsteps. Her father, Tom, was a great player in the 1920s, and her mother, Mrs. Bundy, was a champion of a quarter of a century ago. Before her marriage she was May Sutton of the famous tennis family of that name. This year in the eastern championship she was defeated by her father, and she was within two points of the match at the end of the match. She was then defeated by her father, and she was within two points of the match at the end of the match.

Babe Herman, outfielder of the Brooklyn Robins, obtained from Seattle back in 1925, is a globe-trotter. Eight years ago when he thought he would like to play ball he happened to be in Los Angeles, so he went to Edmonton, Sask., to start. He was there with Eddie Manush. Both got trials with Detroit and Manush stuck. But it took Babe several years to reach the big leagues. Babe went to Reading, then shifted to Omaha, received two trials with the Boston Red Sox, then went back to the minors, Louisville, Memphis, San Antonio, Little Rock and Seattle. He cost Uncle Robbie $15,000. This year Herman has been a source of national league pitchers. He seems to have no weakness. He can be fooled by a pitch and at the same time sneak it to the outfield.

In changing the rule on fumbles, declaring such a ball dead at the point of recovery if recovered by the team on the defence, the football rules committee "took into consideration" the fact that in the great majority of cases the actual fumble of the ball is the error of a single player and not the fault of the team as a whole. They seem pretty sure, then, that it isn't a couple of other fellows.

What a wonderful thing a rule change of that nature would be in baseball! If the apple goes through John Shortston's legs, the batter must come back and try it again.

Why call Babe Ruth out on strikes? It certainly isn't Ruthie Huggins' fault when he misses three in a row—when he does.

The 1917 world series ought to be played all over. It wasn't the Gian's fault that Heine Zimmerman decided to chase Eddie Collins across the plate that time.

The 1912 series can be played over this year along with the 1929 series. Just because Fred McManis muffed a ball in the outfield is no reason for penalizing Mr. McGraw's ball team.

The nomination of Jewel Eas as manager of the Pittsburgh team, has been approved formally by a rising vote of the headline writers.

Now if the Pirates could bring back pitcher Yde, newspapering in Pittsburgh would be pretty soft.

Dryness of Woods Will Be Hard on Hunters and Dogs; Majority of Enthusiasts Will Seek Deer on Opening Days; Hunters Are Reminded That Does Not Come Into Season Until Next Month; Record Number of Licenses Being Sold.

With a record number of licenses being sold indications point towards a regular army of hunters marching into the woods bright and early Saturday morning when the hunting season will be ushered in. One sporting goods dealer alone has sold over 300 licenses and other dealers have disposed of many additional ones. Buck deer and blue grouse will be the only game that comes into season Saturday, with band-tailed pigeons coming in on Sunday.

Present dry weather conditions will make it hard for hunters who go out on the opening days in quest of birds. The woods will be exceptionally dry in view of the small amount of rainfall during the last few weeks, making it hard going for both dogs and men. The dryness will also seriously hamper the bird scent for the dogs. It is not expected many hunters will return with their bag limits on blue grouse.

MAJORITY AFTER DEER However, as far as can be learned, the greater majority of the hunters will be out after deer. Sporting goods dealers have been working overtime in an effort to get hundreds of rifles, of every make and bore, into first-class condition for the opening days. As the deer are very plentiful in all districts the dryness will not seriously hamper this sport. For the first few days the deer will be running all over the woods in an effort to get away from the many hunters, and until such time as they head back into the heavy thickets, the hunting will be good.

Hunters are again reminded that deer do not become lawful game until November 15. The bag limit on deer is three for the season, one of which may be a doe, provided it is killed after November 15.

In view of the fact that does do not become lawful game until next month there should not be any excuse for shooting accidents on the opening days. Hunters cannot shoot at any moving target, which may be another hunter, as they will not know whether or not the deer is a buck or a doe. They must wait to see.

One hunter in men's furnishings hung out a novel sign this morning. In the front of his store hangs a bunch of red rags and tied on the bottom of the bundle is a sign, "safety first." Many hunters, although some wear red cloth around their neck or tied on to their cap.

POPULAR DISTRICT Jordan River, Malahat, Highland district and Cowichan Lake will be the hunting grounds for the majority of hunters. In the Malahat district, where the blue grouse are reported very plentiful in the many logged off areas. The bag limit on blue grouse is five for a day and twenty-five for the season. The season for blue grouse is until October 31.

A few days as issued by the Provincial Game Board are as follows: Don't destroy fences or property of the farmer and always ask for permission to shoot over his property.

Don't shoot unless you clearly see and are sure of what you are shooting at. It may be a doe, a cow, or a man.

Don't go hunting until you are acquainted with the game laws. Don't shoot harmless wild life. Practice on crows, magpies, and that ilk.

Don't enter a boat or car with a loaded gun or rifle.

Don't discharge firearms from an automobile or other vehicle. It is dangerous and against the law.

Leave a clean camp and a clean record. You may want to come back.

Be a sportsman—respect the rights of others. Report violations of the Act.

Don't start forest fires. Never drop a lighted match, cigar or cigarette, or knock live ashes from your pipe. Make your camp fire safe and put it out before leaving. The Forestry Department claims that the serious increase in forest fires every year at the first of the open season is caused by hunters.

Following are a few things it is unlawful to do: To use any automatic, swivel, or machine gun, battery, or any gun larger than a 10-gauge or a pump-gun without a permanent plug.

To hunt upland game birds between sunset and sunrise and any other game or migratory game bird between one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.

To carry loaded firearms in or discharge same from an automobile or any other vehicle either on or off a highway.

To carry firearms in an automobile, launch, sailboat, or power-boat during the close season on game without a permit issued by the game commission.

To have in possession, place or set poison for the taking or killing of any game.

To use pit-lamps or lights of any description at any time for the purpose of hunting game birds or animals.

To remove all evidence of sex from a deer which has been killed until such deer has been taken to place of consumption.

To hunt game birds from any sailboat, powerboat, or aeroplane.

To use any other person's license or to loan or transfer any license under any circumstances.

To allow any dog to hunt or run any caribou, moose, wapiti or deer at any time, or to run at large hunting game birds between April 15 and August 15, both dates inclusive.

Bobby Jones Plays Brilliant Golf In Exhibition Match

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—Bobby Jones showed eight thousand persons yesterday how he usually plays the game of golf when he shot an impressive 69, two under par, on the difficult San Francisco Golf Club course. Jones, who was paired with Cyril Tolley, British amateur champion, defeated Dr. O. F. Willing, runner-up in the 1929 national amateur championship, and George Von Elm, 3 and 2.

Oshawa Lacrosse Team Wins Match

Regina, Sept. 11.—Senior lacrosse came back into its own for one brief period when a crowd of enthusiasts turned out at Park Hughes to watch the General Motors team of Oshawa, newly crowned Canadian champions, meet an aggregation of local players recruited by Paddy Ryan. The Mann Cuppers, playing under wraps, carried off the decision by 12 to 3.

The contest was the highlight of a twenty-four-hour play made in the capital by the Mann Cup party en route home from New Westminster, where they won the Canadian championship last week.

The HOME RUN PARADE

With Frank O'Doul idle and retaining his average of 390, Babe Herman fell further from the top yesterday as the batting champion of the Six Six and the National League. The Brooklyn Babe got only one out of four at Pittsburgh, Jimmy Doolittle hit four home runs and remained stationary, as did Babe Ruth, who got three out of nine in two games against Detroit. His hits included two homers, running his total to forty-four. Hornsby was 7 to 10 and Simmons gained a point with two out of four.

Two Track Records Bested At Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—Two track records entered the history of Whittier Park yesterday when Tarn San Carlos romped in first in the mile Port Garry Handicap at 1.41 4-5, and Silent Messenger took the Marlborough Handicap at 5 1/2 furlongs in 1:03 3-5.

Giants Purchase Pitcher Pruett

New York, Sept. 11.—The New York Giants yesterday announced the purchase of the contract of Herbert Pruett, left-handed pitcher, from Newark of the International League, for a cash consideration which was unannounced. Pruett formerly pitched for St. Louis in the American League. He became famous early in his career with the Browns as a nemesis of Babe Ruth.

Sonnenberg Wins Over Giant Pole In Straight Falls

Kansas City, Sept. 14.—Stanley Stasiak, the big pole, fell a victim of the flying tackle, the favorite held of "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, in a match here last night.

Members of the Missouri Athletic Commission who recently adopted a code prohibiting "deliberate butting," made no attempt to interfere with the champion's tactics.

Sonnenberg won the first fall in 58 minutes and 30 seconds and the second in 2 minutes and 3 seconds.

Woman Struck By Golf Ball Dies

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 11.—A golf ball driven from the fifteenth tee of the Glen View Country Club, was held responsible yesterday for the death of Mrs. Frank Watrous, fifty-three-year-old woman's champion of the club, but the coroner's office has continued the inquest pending further investigation.

Mrs. Watrous was walking toward the sixteenth tee on Sunday, when Harry Jordan, manager of a tanning company, drove from number fifteen. The ball struck Mrs. Watrous in the head and she was knocked unconscious. She died Monday.

The Curovort twins of Wichita, Helen and Mae, are the girl tennis champions of Kansas. They won the doubles title at the recent Kansas tournament held at Wichita. Mae also is the singles champion of Kansas and only a week before the Kansas tournament she won the Missouri Valley title for women, defeating star players from several states. Mae ranks as one of the leading tennis players in the nation. The twins also are basketball stars.

29-Lb. Salmon Caught To-day Off Breakwater

Caught early this morning off the end of the breakwater on a Cowichan spinner, brass and silver, and worm, a large twenty-nine-pound spring salmon is now on view in the windows of Pimley & Ritchie's, Broad Street. The fish, the biggest caught so far in the waters off Dallas Road, was hauled in by S. Spence, who was accompanied by Bill and Ted Knight.

LOCAL FILLY AGAIN SHOWS GREAT SPEED

Mrs. A. E. Smith's Lady Goldstream Scores Another Fine Victory at Colwood

Has Lost Only One Decision This Year; Good Prices Seen Yesterday

old filly, Lady Goldstream, born and bred within a mile or two of the track and possessing a record marred by only one defeat, added to her string of victories yesterday by making a show of the field in the Beaver Handicap at Colwood track.

The race, run over the six furlong route, was for Western Canadian bred horses only and drew such ponies as H. Heywood's Yorkmore, which is now at the top of its form, and Mrs. F. Babak's Extension, another speedy gelding.

WITH A MARGIN Jockey Richardson, who rode the little Lady, put her nose in front as the ponies left the barrier, and after wearing out the flying Extension, came on to win with a comfortable margin.

Despite a heavy impost of 119 pounds, Yorkmore finished with a fast rush to get the show.

Yesterday's win gave the Smith filly a record of three wins out of four starts for the year, the only defeat being over the same route at Colwood when Somers' Gale took a nose decision last meet.

GOOD PRICES The public were not picking the winners regularly at the track yesterday. The highest price of the day was paid in the second by Mrs. E. Sperry's Perigun, which secured the place position and rewarded $2 backers with $36.80 and $10.70 to show.

A Vanger's Dorothy Loan, a sixteen to one shot, was the winner, paying $24.80 straight and $68.40 across the board.

Trade Wind, in the sixth, and Spearshot, in the seventh, were other winners which paid off in double figures. Trade Wind returned $13.30 straight, and Spearshot $11.00.

TEASDALE RIDES TWO Young Teasdale, who has shown considerable riding ability on the mile track, was the only boy to boot home more than one winner, scoring a double victory with Another Deck in the third and Terrifier in the fourth.

Terrifier, carrying enough money to make him almost an even favorite, provided an honest-to-goodness thrill for the punters. Practically left at anchor when he broke sideways, the big black horse chased the field to the first turn and then, with apparent ease, went around the crowd and won in a canter by nearly five lengths.

Silly Walz was second and Pannon third.

I. Schaffer's Prospecta, with Owens aboard, finished with a fast gallop to win the five and one-half furlong first from Chatterbox and Irish Jury. Laying behind the pace until the drive for home, the winner was easily the best.

The results follow: First race, Claiming, purse $300: three-year-olds and up; five and a half furlongs—1, Prospecta, $6.35, $3.50, $3.05; 2, Chatterbox, $4.65, $3.53; 3, Irish Jury, $2.95. Time 1:08.

Second race, purse $300; maidens, two-year-olds; four and a half furlongs—1, Dorothy Loan, $33.80, $20.81, $13.75; 2, Perigun, $26.60, $10.70; 3, O'Byrne, $6.90. Time 56.

Third race, Claiming, purse $400: three-year-olds and up; six furlongs—1, Another Deck, $5.20, $3.85, $2.80; 2, Swift Cop, $5.40, $5.00; 3, Pop Shot, $5.95. Time 1:13 2-5.

Fourth race, Claiming, purse $300: four-year-olds and up; mile and seventy yards—1, Terrifier, $4.20, $3.00, $2.70; 2, Billy Walz, $6.00, $3.90; 3, Pannon, $3.30. Time 1:47 1-5.

Fifth race, The Beaver Handicap, purse $500; Western Canadian-bred horses; six furlongs—1, Lady Goldstream, $3.05, $2.40, $2.30; 2, Extension, $2.55, $2.25; 3, Yoi Home, $2.24. Time 1:11 4-5.

Sixth race, Claiming, purse $400: three-year-olds and up; mile and seventy yards—1, Trade Wind, $13.30, $7.40, $4.10; 2, Alberta Lad, $14.43, $8.40; 3, Flashy, $5.70. Time 1:47.

Seventh race, Claiming, purse $400: three-year-olds and up; mile and seventy yards—1, Spear Shot, $11.00, $4.80, $3.75; 2, Jack Knight, $6.70, $5.15; 3, Paved Way, $5.75. Time 1:45 3-5.

Runner-up in Canadian Amateur Takes Honors in Totem Pole Competition

Leads Qualifying Round With Score of 79; M. Straith, Victoria, Qualifies

Jasper Park Lodge, Alta., Sept. 11.—Out of a field of sixty-two contestants, sixteen players qualified yesterday for the Jasper Park Lodge Totem Pole trophy, and the first elimination round is being fought out to-day. Gardiner White, of New York, runner-up in the Canadian amateur championship to Eddie Held, led the field in the qualifying round with a score of 79. Although the day and the course were ideal for perfect golf, White experienced difficulties at times and despite a fairly steady brand of golf he took 40 going out and 39 going back. The "breaks" were against him, however, and with a little luck, he would easily have clipped another six off his score.

The feature of his game were the long distances secured off the tee and the accuracy with which he placed his second shots.

His score card showed eleven fours and two threes, but he took seven of the second hole and six at the tenth and thirteenth. His cards for the eighteen holes was: Out—4744444—40 In.—4466644—39—79.

V. A. Newhall, of Calgary, was runner-up with a card of 81. At the halfway mark, Newhall led the field with a 38, but coming in he wasn't so steady and required a 43.

SCORES OF 95 QUALIFIED for the championship flight, and of the sixteen remaining in the running Calgary has the biggest reputation, no less than five players from the southern Alberta city. W. A. Newhall, H. Black, A. J. Toole, Ben Cool and J. Leslie Bell, being numbered among the competitors from southern Alberta.

New York and Winnipeg each has a pair of contenders. Vancouver has three, while Edmonton, Montreal, Victoria and Toronto has one apiece.

Following is the draw for the first round of the championship flight to be played to-day.

F. Hopkins, New York, vs. A. J. Toole, Calgary.

A. P. Foster, Vancouver, vs. V. A. Newhall, Calgary.

Ben Cool, Calgary, vs. G. M. Black, Winnipeg.

O. L. Clark, Toronto, vs. J. Leslie Bell, Calgary.

W. A. Whyte, Vancouver, vs. M. Straith, Victoria.

R. Symes, Vancouver, vs. H. Black, Calgary.

G. W. White, New York, vs. F. Salberg, Winnipeg.

A. J. Hills, Montreal, vs. J. B. Starky, Edmonton.

LADIES' COMPETITION On account of the fact that there were only fourteen entries in the women's competition, no qualifying round was played yesterday, and the following draws were arranged to be played Wednesday:

Mrs. T. B. Mackey vs. Mrs. Black.

Mrs. C. M. Schloes vs. Mrs. Cool.

Miss Egbert vs. Miss McMahon.

Miss McCloskey vs. Miss C. Smith.

Mrs. J. Halliday vs. Mrs. J. A. MacKinnon.

Mrs. Hopkins vs. Mrs. Crombie.

Miss E. Smith vs. Mrs. Maddocks.

THE QUALIFYING SCORES Following is a complete list of the scores turned in for the qualifying round:

Gardiner White 79, V. A. Newhall 81, H. Black 85, M. Straith 86, J. B. Starky 90, R. Symes 90, O. L. Clark 90, A. P. Foster 90, H. Black Sr. 9

Mickey Walker Pays Fine On Drunk Charge

St. Leger Brings Welcome Windfall For Ticket Holders

A New Westminster man who held a ticket in a Victoria sweepstake will collect $13,771 for his $1 investment. J. Main, Box 425, New Westminster, held the number of Trigo, which came home in the historic St. Leger to-day. S. N. Kilgallon, Box 151, of Port Alberni, held the number of Bosworth, and will be richer by $6,888.50.

Mickey Walker Pays Fine On Drunk Charge

Los Angeles, Sept. 11.—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion boxer, pleaded not guilty in municipal court yesterday to a charge of possession of liquor. He asked for a jury trial, which was set for October 7.

Two companions, who were arrested with Walker early Monday morning in a raid on a Hollywood apartment, where all allegedly were holding a noisy drinking party, entered similar pleas and had their trials set for the same date. They were Ray Sallor and Arthur Rousman, motion picture actors. A fourth defendant, George Sweeney, film director, pleaded guilty and paid a $300 fine.

Ens Is Offered Management Of Pittsburgh Team

Pittsburgh, Sept. 11.—Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has offered the job of managing the National League's next season to Jewel Ens, who took over the reins after resignation of Benjie Bush recently. Ens has not announced his decision.

German Girl Swims Around Heligoland Island in Fast Time

Hamburg, Germany, Sept. 11.—Fraulein Nelly Haut yesterday swam around the Island of Heligoland in two hours thirty-one minutes, which is the best record ever made.

Babe Ruth Hits Two Homers But Yanks Slip Back

Philadelphia Wins First Game From Cleveland and Second Is Washed Out by Rain; New York Split Pair With Detroit; Ruth Gains Safer Lead on Home Run Honors by Hitting His Forty-third and Forty-fourth; Cubs Are Idle.

As the Chicago Cubs marked time through an open date in the schedule yesterday, the Philadelphia Athletics rushed several strides nearer a pennant already their's to all intents and purposes. A Philadelphia victory over Cleveland in the first part of a double-header, the permanent removal of the second game from the schedule because of rain and an even break for the Yanks against Detroit all combined to reduce the needs of the Mackmen from nine victories to six.

That unplayed second portion of the Athletic-Indian double-header stands Mr. Mack in just as good stead as a game won. By sweeping their remaining twenty-one games the Yanks could finish with 98 victories and 56 defeats. To better such an improbable performance, the Mackmen would have to win only six and could lose thirteen. Such a snail's pace would send them under the wire with 98 won and 55 lost.

George Earnshaw sought his twenty-first victory in the opener at Philadelphia yesterday, but discovered tough opponents among the Indians. Jimmy Foss gave the A's a margin of 3-2 in the first round by lapping one of Master Ferrell's offerings, over the top of the left field seats for his thirty-second homer and his third over the difficult pavilion target this season.

RALLY WINS GAME
The Mackmen rallied in the eighth for a pair to tie and pushed the winner home in the ninth. At precisely the right moment to give Edwin Americanus Rommel credit for the 8-5 victory. Averill and Hodapp hit homers for the Indians.

Babe Ruth celebrated with his forty-third and forty-fourth home runs in New York. The second of these blows, delivered with two Yanks aboard in the ninth round of the nightcap, sent the ex-champions into a tie and paved the way for them to pull out the decision by 10-9 a moment later. The Tigers had won the opener by 8-4 through the systematic torture of Herb Pennock and Gordon Rhodes in the early rounds.

After Babe delivered his blow against Emil Yde in the thirteenth, the Detroit left-hander, fifth in a parade of Bengal pitchers permitted the Yanks to till the bases, and then made the mistake of passing Bob Meusel to force home the winning run.

Lou Gehrig collected his thirty-first homer in the second game, but even the pitchers were hitting them yesterday. Whitehill in the opener and Graham in the second clash, scaled the barrier. Dale Alexander got his thirty-third and Charlie Gehring his eleventh.

RUSSELL LOSES TWO
Jack Russell achieved the unenviable distinction of losing two games in one day at Boston. The St. Louis knuckedown from the box in less than an inning of the opener, which they won by 6-1, and the Red Sox booted home an unearned run in the first round of the second game when he tried to make a comeback. The Browns took this one by 1-0. The Washington-Chicago game was prevented by rain.

The National League's abbreviated programme was featured by the game at Forbes Field. Watson Clark and Jess Prety engaged in a keen pitching duel, for seven rounds, only to permit the contest to go completely on the loose in the last two innings. The Pirates pulled out the decision by 7-6 when Paul Waner drove in two runs with a triple in the ninth.

The Cincinnati Reds defeated the New York Giants by 7-5 at Cincinnati. The rest had an open date.

The Tiger's Claws — By Jimmy Thompson

"Jungle Town" has started in to get things in shape for the rugby title race and the famous team is out to retain its laurels as Dominion Champions. Most of the big brigade are again in harness. "Cap" Fear, "Ren" Walker, Brian Timma, "Beau" Wright, "Huck" Welch, Bert Gibb, "Daisy" Deneman, "Ray" Bowdway and other regulars. The Hamilton team with this turnout certainly look like a tough bunch to beat and Glenn Small has returned from Sarala and will line up with the Yellow and Black. The famous "Pep" Leadley is coaching the second team, and should be of help to the crafty Mike Rodden in planning how to keep the cup.

HE SUFFERED FOR TEN YEARS

Then ALL-BRAN Brought Relief in 2 Months—Doctor Recommended It

Constipation is dreaded not only for its own insidious self, but because of the many serious conditions and diseases it causes. Mr. Lind was a sufferer—but read how he found relief.

"For the past 10 years I have suffered from piles. At times I have been unable to work. I have tried suppositories, ointments, etc., but to no avail. Two months ago my grocer called my attention to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I began taking it regularly. Immediately the pain and annoyance from the piles was relieved. I found that it requires very little effort to give nature a fair chance to effect a cure."—W. A. Lind, R. 2, Box 137, Appleton, Wis.

Don't neglect constipation. At any time its poisons may take terrible toll from your health and well-being. Protect yourself. Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly—two tablespoons daily, or in chronic cases, with every meal. ALL-BRAN brings sure, natural relief. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Also try the recipes on the package. Results guaranteed. Doctors recommend it because it is 100% bran. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Served in hotels, restaurants, and dining cars. Sold by all grocers.

PRINCIPLES OF TOCH ARE TOLD

Rev. George Pringle Illustrates Comradeship in Address to Group

With an unusually large attendance, the first Toch H meeting of the winter season, held last night, was one of the most successful held by the Victoria group.

Rev. George Pringle, pastor of Centennial Church, was the principal speaker, and kept the members interested during a half-hour discourse.

Mr. Pringle told tales which illustrated the principles of Toch H such as the preservation of the finest memories of the war, the developing of comradeship and the seeking of service. He also spoke of one or two incidents which happened during the war, he himself having been one of the Cameron Highlanders. During his address, he referred to instances from his book "Fifteen Years of the Toch H" to illustrate the comradeship of the woods. H. T. Ravenhill also spoke at the meeting, telling of a bicycle trip made by himself and others through the interior of British Columbia. He recalled several incidents of the journey which interested his listeners.

Troop Leader Allen McInnes, Vancouver Island's only representative at the Boy Scout jamboree, attended and was introduced to the group members. He will speak to the group at a later date on the impressions he received from the jamboree.

REALTORS AT SOOKE TO-DAY

Trail Riding and Boating to Engage Attention of Holiday Outing Party

Members of the Victoria Real Estate Board, their wives and guests, together with many of their office staff personnel, left the city at two o'clock this afternoon for an outing at Sooke, where the Belvedere Hotel and the Sooke Harbor Fishing and Packing Company will contribute to a program of entertainment in honor of the visitors.

Officers of the board members closed early this afternoon, while numbers joined the outing. A caravan of automobiles left for the western scenic playground, where horseback riding, boating and other events were planned. Afternoon tea and dinner will be served for the visitors at 7 o'clock this evening at the Belvedere Hotel, and will be followed by an informal dance.

The Real Estate Board will hold a luncheon meeting at David Spencer's Limited on Friday afternoon at 12.30, when a special committee will report on town-planning proposals.

Luxton

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Betts have returned from a two-months' tour of Southern California.

G. Coldcott, Glen Lake Road, has had his brother visiting here.

Mrs. J. G. Crosby has returned from a week's holiday at Chilliwack.

Mrs. E. Weed and son of Vancouver are guests of Mrs. Jack Trace Jr. of "Glendale Cabin."

The monthly meeting of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute took the form of a picnic at Taylor's Beach on Thursday afternoon. The meeting was well attended, also several visitors present, including Mrs. Lea Verne, of Seattle, Mesdames Neff, Oliver and Woodruff. A gratifying report was presented as regards progress of the work.

Miss Bradshaw, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A. will address the October meeting on the advantages to out-of-town residents of the Y.W.C.A. organization and its work. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Baxter. A sale of superfluities will be held, each institute member being asked to bring one article. The secretary was instructed to ask the Department of Public Works for certain road improvements. A treasure hunt followed the business meeting, the winners being Mesdames Lowe, Oliver and Rankin.

Arthur Baxter has been spending a few days with his parents before leaving for Shawinigan Lake.

BURNS NEEDED BY SCOTLAND, SAYS SPEAKER

Immortal Bard Came at Right Time For His Country, Club Told

Rev. James Hood Speaks at First Fall Meeting of Burns Society

"Burns' poetry was an open sesame to all hearts. He gave articulate language to the echoes he caught wandering over the glens, moors and mountains. His method was to reduce these echoes to melodies and croon them over to himself until words materialized out of the sounds. That is genius—pure and simple."

These were the words used by Rev. James Hood, in describing the works of Scotland's immortal bard, Robert Burns, at the first general meeting this season of the Victoria Burns Club. The gathering was held in the Amphion Hall last night, with John Hoyle, president, in the chair. Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce attended, proposing the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Rev. Mr. Hood took as the subject of his address "An Ayshireman's Appreciation of an Ayshireman." He spoke of Burns' birthplace, within twenty miles of his own, declaring he was proud of the fact that he had been born in the same county.

"Burns came to Scotland when she needed him most for her honor and redemption," Mr. Hood said. "The Christ preached from the pulpits of the country at that time was an incarnation of Divine love for the few and not for the masses. Although Burns seldom mentions Christ, by name everywhere in his poems is throbbing the spirit of the Man of Galilee. It was obviously his firm belief that the troubles and injustices of the world would eventually be set right and that Omnipotent Love would triumph."

"Burns," he continued, "was the poet laureate of the working man and, if his poems are phrased in Scottish dialect, they touch the heart of the universe none the less. For instance, the picture conjured up by his 'Comin' Thro' the Rye' is being enacted today in every country in the world. His poetry, moreover, pulsates with tenderness and humor, and it makes poverty sing, as may be seen from the distinction which he draws between wealth and worth. I am not unmindful of his faults, but his genius far transcended these. Although he could, upon occasion, be trapped by a fascinating woman, never for an instant was he led away by the glitter of gold."

An excellent programme of entertainment was provided. Jesse Longfield, accompanied by Miss Winnifred McDonald, rendered a selection of Scottish airs upon the violin, and Miss Marjorie Watson, accompanied by J. Smith, sang two solos. Piper D. Cameron performed in his usual fine style.

FIRE IN ROMANIA

Bucharest, Roumania, Sept. 11.—Fire last night burned more than fifty houses in the village of Targoviste, northwest of this city. A strong wind kept the flames roaring late into the night despite the efforts of firefighters summoned from surrounding towns.

THREE LINERS DUE TO-MORROW

Niagara, Empress of Russia and Emma Alexander Will Be Callers at Outer Docks

To-morrow will see three big passenger liners in port, one outbound to the Orient, and two inbound, one from Australia and Honolulu and the other from California ports.

From Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu, the Canadian Australasian liner Niagara is expected to arrive at the William Head quarantine station at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. This time should bring her alongside the Rithet Piers about 5 o'clock to discharge seventy-seven tons of general cargo and several passengers from her three classes. The Niagara is more than twelve hours ahead of schedule. Fine weather and the fact that she is fresh from annual overhaul in Sydney has enabled the big liner to make this splendid trip.

To sail outbound to ports in China, Japan and the Philippine Islands, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia is expected at the Rithet Piers from Vancouver shortly after 5 o'clock to take on local passengers, cargo and mails before sailing for Yokohama. With Capt. A. J. Hosken on the bridge, the Russia will sail from Vancouver at noon to-morrow. It is expected she will be able to clear the docks here for sea about 7 o'clock in the evening. The third and last vessel of the day will be the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal passenger liner Emma Alexander, which is expected here from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco about 10 o'clock to-morrow night with more than 300 passengers.

Who's Who On the Gangplank

Stepping on to the Rithet docks from the deck of the Holland-American vessel Moerdyk, which arrived yesterday from the United Kingdom, by way of the Panama Canal and California ports, were A. G. Field and Mrs. Field of San Francisco. They brought their car along and waited in the shed until it was swung over the side of the vessel. Then they stepped into it, piled their baggage in the rear seat and drove away to see the sights of Victoria and Vancouver Island before motoring to their home in the south. They enjoyed a delightful trip up the Coast from the Golden Gate aboard the Moerdyk.

Other passengers on the Holland-American vessel were A. G. Field and Mrs. Field and their two children. They proceeded to Vancouver aboard the ship this morning, after thoroughly enjoying their over-night stay in Victoria. They took opportunity of the stay over of the vessel at this port to take sightseeing drives around the city and environs. With M. O. Power, and W. S. Smith, the other two Vancouver passengers, the Cornack family boarded the vessel in England.

Although the tourist season is pretty well over, still the passenger list for the Princess Norah, which will sail from Victoria for the West Coast of Vancouver Island to-night, shows a number of round-trip tourists. Passengers, September is a glorious month on the Coast and if the weather remains good, the present trip of the Norah should be a delightful one. There are also a number of coast business men booked, returning from trips to Victoria and Vancouver, as well as a large number of Indians, returning from holidays in the Coast. The coast steamers always take large numbers of natives who travel in the steamer.

Other than these two passenger steamers there was little passenger movement around the docks to-day except, of course, for the regular vessels. To-morrow will see three liners here, the Niagara, the Empress of Russia and the Emma Alexander. Between them they should have a large number of passengers.

Around the Docks

The Holland-American freighter Moerdyk sailed from the Rithet piers this morning at 10:30 o'clock for Vancouver to complete discharging her European cargo. She arrived here yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, five days ahead of schedule, due to fine weather. For discharge here she had 150 tons of general cargo and before sailing for Vancouver loaded a light cargo for the return voyage.

After loading 500,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber at the Rithet piers here, the Japanese freighter Yohin Maru was expected to leave port early this afternoon for Chemainus to complete for Orient ports.

The Canadian National steamer Prince George will leave Vancouver at 8 o'clock to-night for Prince Rupert, the Portland Canal and Ketchikan. She will return to Vancouver next Monday afternoon.

The Ben line freighter Benledi sailed from the Rithet piers last night at 8 o'clock for Seattle, after loading 280,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber at the Rithet piers here. After loading at Seattle, the ship will proceed to Columbia and then to the United Kingdom.

The freighter Fortbridge is expected at the Rithet piers to-morrow morning from Port Alberni to load a cargo of lumber for the Atlantic coast.

Bound for Victoria and Vancouver with passengers and cargo from the United Kingdom, the Furness Pacific motor liner Enterprise was scheduled to arrive from San Francisco to-day. King Brothers, local shipping agents expect the ship here early Saturday morning.

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia and the American Mail liner President Pierce will sail to-morrow from Yokohama for this port. The Asia will dock here on Saturday, September 21, while the Pierce will arrive two days later, Monday, September 23.

The freighter Temple Lane, now loading lumber and general cargo at the Rithet piers, is expected here on September 17 or 18 to finish a lumber cargo for the West Indies and the United Kingdom.

The power cruiser Ruth E. of Seattle was to-day tied up at the Salvage Wharf in the Inner Harbor, with a party of guests aboard.

The B.C. Cement Company's freighter Sheen and the Brackin-Ker freighter Grainor were to-day discharging small cargo consignments in the Inner Harbor.

The C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah will sail from Victoria to-night at 11 o'clock for ports on the West Coast of Vancouver Island as far north as Port Alice.

Capt. James Tasker, a well-known Pacific Coast master, and former captain of the freighter Chief Capilano, has been appointed port captain for the American Mail Line and Dollar Steamship Company in Manila. Capt. Tasker has already taken up his position in the Philippines.

The Japanese freighters Ryuyoh Maru and Atlantic Maru are at present loading general and lumber cargoes in Vancouver for Orient ports.

W. B. Perry of the Great Northern office staff, left this afternoon for Vancouver to join the Canadian National steamer Prince George for a week's trip to Prince Rupert and Ketchikan.

The Canadian National freighter Canadian Observer is expected at the Ogden Point piers sometime tomorrow morning from San Pedro and other California ports with forty-eight tons of general cargo for discharge here.

A delightful cruise among the Gulf Islands by the Seaside Princess special day excursion rates: Mondays and Thursdays from Victoria and return to Sidney; Tuesdays and Fridays from Sidney and return to Victoria; Wednesdays and Saturdays from Victoria and return to Victoria.

Change of Service
The "Mountaineer" to Chicago will be discontinued after September 8. The "So-Pacific Express" connection to Chicago now leaves Vancouver at 9 p.m. The Sidney-Stevenson motor ferry service will be discontinued after September 8.

VESSELS BUSY WITH WORKERS FROM ALASKA

Dorothy Alexander to Take South 400 Cannery Workers; Louise to Carry Others

With the heavy tourist passenger movement of 1929 ended, steamship companies plying to Alaska and northern British Columbia are now engaged in carrying cannery hands and other northern summer workers to their homes in the south.

The Pacific Steamship Company's liner Dorothy Alexander, which sailed from Victoria Monday night with only 115 tourist passengers aboard, will return to Seattle in ten days' time with 400 cannery workers from the canneries of southwestern Alaska. These men have been employed in the north since early in June, and with the closing of the canneries for the winter months will return south. Most of them are from Seattle, although there are several from California cities.

The C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, now maintaining the only passenger schedule as far north as Skagway, is expected to bring down large numbers of cannery hands on her third trip this year. With the tourist season over in Alaska and the Yukon, the employees of the White Pass Railway and their families, steamsmiths, and curio and antique dealers will be returning home for the winter. Most of these will travel south aboard the Princess Louise.

The tourist season in the interior of Alaska and the Yukon has been the greatest yet known, according to reports published by the White Pass Railway. More passengers than usual have been handled into Dawson while the shorter trips over the railroad to the Lake Bennett and Taku Arm have been as popular as ever. There has been a greater movement down the Yukon than usual this year, large parties of tourists visiting Dawson and continuing down the Yukon to Nome, where they board steamers for Seattle.

Shipping Disasters For Monday Of This Week Cost $2,500,000

London, Sept. 11.—Shipping disasters of Monday were estimated last night to have cost the marine insurance market in London about $2,500,000. At Lloyd's it was thought the standing of the Nelson Line-Highland Field off Vigo, Spain, would cost about $1,700,000.

The casualty roll for Monday carried the names of fourteen vessels, seven of which ran aground in various parts of the world, two of which collided with each other, with another seriously damaged by fire.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Sept. 11.—Seattle's port budget for 1930 was set at $1,480,000 by commissioners of the Port of Seattle yesterday. The budget includes $510,000 for interest and bond redemption and $970,000 for improvements. The budget shows estimated revenues of $1,100,000, leaving $380,000 to be raised by a tax levy.

Dense fog delayed the arrival of two Seattle-bound ships. The Northwestern arrived a day late from Alaska. The Point Montara arrived yesterday from the Gulf. She was also a day late.

Jacket in the Mode
The jacket this season is of paramount importance. There is hardly a costume that does not have its accompanying coat. Two, three and four-piece suits are the vogue.

Modish for Evening
One of the most successful evening frocks of this season is made of orange jersey tulle with a princess line and sheer ruffles on the skirt.

BIG DELEGATION VISITS JASPER

Chamber of Commerce Members From Great Britain and Eastern Canada Tour West

Jasper Park, Sept. 11.—After two days of enjoyment in Jasper National Park, the Chamber of Commerce 1-ft. last night for Edmonton, where the first important business sessions were held to-day. For many of those in the delegation from Great Britain and eastern Canada it was their first visit to the Canadian Rockies, and they were all delighted and amazed at the beauty of this great National Park and Jasper Park Lodge, where they made their headquarters. As if aware there were some very distinguished visitors in their midst, the Jasper hoteliers formed on schedule and interrupted several good drives among the golfers. The golfers never threatened par, but earned for themselves reputation for the highest scores known to this remarkable course.

All members of the party took advantage of one or more of the motor drives, the British visitors all making a trip to Mount Edith Cavell.

U.S. LINE TO RUN WITH C.N.

General Vermont Railway Incorporated Will Operate in Quebec Along With C.N.R.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—The Canadian National Railway headquarters here yesterday issued the following statement:
"Application has been presented at Washington, D.C., before the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Central Vermont Railway Incorporated for authority to take over the business of the Central Vermont Railway Company and operate it and its subsidiary lines in the states of Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York as well as the lines in the province of Quebec connecting with the Canadian National Railway."

The application also asks authority to issue to the extent of $120,000,000 first mortgage bonds, debentures to the extent of $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 in common stock.

Further, the Canadian National Railway has presented an application for permission to own all the stock and securities of the Central Vermont Railway Incorporated.

New Motorship To Arrive In Seattle Middle of November

The steamer Oakland, first of three new motorships under construction for the Hamburg-American Line, will sail from Hamburg for Seattle on October 2. Harold Eby, general Pacific coast representative of the company, has announced that the motorship will arrive on the Sound about the middle of November.

The Tacoma and Vancouver, other boats for the run, will be completed next March, Mr. Eby said. The company recently returned from Europe and is completing an inspection tour of Pacific coast branches of the line.

CHARGES FILED AGAINST LINES

U.S. Navigation Co. Says That British Lines Using Illegal Means of Business

New York, Sept. 11.—Charges that thirteen British steamship lines are in a conspiracy to deprive the United States Navigation Company of transatlantic freight business were on file in Federal Court to-day.

The United States company is seeking an injunction against the British lines, which include the Cunard and White Star Lines, accusing them of numerous illegal practices and of being in combination to restrain foreign trade of the United States.

The complaint asserts the United States Navigation Company carries less than five per cent of the transatlantic freight and charges that the British lines are seeking to squeeze it out of the business entirely.

Charges that derogatory statements were spread by the defendants concerning the United States Navigation Company, including one that it was about to discontinue service are made in the complaint.

The United States Navigation Company operates a number of freight steamers under charter.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—The first heavy fog of the year to envelop San Francisco Bay completely arrived yesterday morning, several weeks ahead of the usual time. Shipping movements around the bay was compelled to feel its way through a dense blanket that stretched the entire length of the harbor. Ferry boats ran under reduced speed for the first time this year. There were no serious accidents.

With but two off-shore passenger liners due to make the harbor during the present week, customs, quarantine and immigration officials are facing one of the slackest weeks of the present year. The liner Virginia, which arrived Monday and the Japanese vessel Yento Maru, due Friday, are the only off-shore passenger vessels listed for arrival this week. Next week will be the busiest of the year, however, with six liners due between Tuesday and Friday.

Nineteen windows tell the story of the New Fall Fashions

STYLE EXPOSITION

To-day, Friday and Saturday

With the new Second Floor Section completed, providing much additional space for the fashion departments, our fall opening presentations are more than ordinarily interesting this year. Intriguing modes so delightfully youthful, so gay and genuine, are displayed in a collection most outstanding and scintillating with new and refreshing ideas. You are invited to inspect the beauty of these garments as well as the many clever creations in dress accessories on the Second as well as on the Main Floor. These, together with new and lovely fabrics, make their debut to-morrow in a setting that befits the new season.

Skirts are Longer and Waistlines Higher

The new high waistline is a popular feature not only in the afternoon frocks but in the evening frocks as well. Silhouettes are very different from those of past seasons, the uneven hem lines chiefly accounting for the change. Velvets take a prominent place in the fabric field, closely followed by satin-luck crepes, Canton crepes, crystal crepes and georgette. Black perhaps comes first in favor although immensely popular are the new dark brown tones, rust henna and rosy shades. Other colors for fall are dark olive green, bright blue and dark red.

Three Groups of Silk Frocks

Every Frock in this collection is new in style, color and material, featuring such style innovations as higher waist lines, lace inserts, moulded hips and larger skirts. Wide range of colors and many blacks. Sizes 16 to 44.

$19.50, $25.00 and $29.50

The Foundation Garment Is Important

With the right foundation design it is by no means such a complicated problem to be dainty and trim on all occasions.

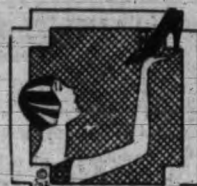

For Morning and Sports Wear let us suggest a Step-in or Side-hooking Girdle that supports the body while allowing freedom for active movement. Dainty and comfortable examples are priced from $2.95 to $4.95

For Afternoon and General Wear we would advise a Corsette with firm Inner Belt to control the hips and abdomen and give the smooth even unbroken line that means so much to the general contour of the figure and the effect in the fit of your frock. All sizes from 34 to 48. Priced at $4.95 and $7.50

Something Smart for Evening Wear would be a low cut back Corsette of swami silk material with silk elastic inserts for the hip line. This is a boneless garment and lined throughout the skirt part to give extra firmness and support. One model of this type has a lace brassiere top. Priced at $4.95 and $7.00
—Second Floor, HBC

Modernistic Designs in Imported Sweaters

All-wool and Silk and Wool Mixed Finely Woven Sweaters in a choice selection of new color combinations, featuring cubist and futuristic designs; many with smartly tailored collars and some with tie. Price $6.95
—Second Floor, HBC

New Shoes

For afternoon and dress wear we are showing some very smart one straps, ties and Colonial pumps, in blue, brown, black, green and red kid. Some with new lizard trimmings. Cuban or spike heels.
Per pair $6.00

Hosiery

Style and utility are in perfect accord in these full-fashioned Service-weight Silk Stockings. They are shown in all the season's newest shades and are moderately priced at $1.95 per pair

Gloves

Washable Suede Gloves for sports, town or evening wear. Pull-on style, four-button length and hand sewn with cleverly stitched points. These are imported from France and are shown in handsome color tones of beige, beige and grey, as well as white.
Per pair $3.75

Handbags

Fall's very newest—Imported from England and France. A smart English model is made from brown Meltonia calf, with the very choicest interior fittings. Priced at $19.50
French Beaded Bags $4.95
Silk Envelope Bags $4.95

Jewelry

French Imported Pearl Strings in 60-inch lengths with crystal units. $10.00
Pearl and Brilliant Chokers, artistically designed; suitable for afternoon or evening wear $5.50
—Main Floor, HBC

The New Cloth Coats Are Heavily Furred

The sport models favor the straight lines while those for more dressy occasions have a suggestion of the flare. Short and long-haired furs are equally stylish and soft pile fabrics show a preference especially in the Dress Coats. Large stand-up collars and shawl collars lend warmth as well as elegance to many of the garments. For the junior miss several very smart cape models are shown.

Coats for Travel

These are fashioned from all-wool imported tweeds, camel-hair cloth and Camotex, tailored in plain and novelty styles with trimmings of wolf, fox paw, French beaverine and southern muskrat. A very special value in this class is a Coat of finely checked tweed in light brown tones. Luxuriously trimmed with fur $29.50
Others at $39.50, $49.50 and $65.00

Exclusive Coats for Dress Wear

Featuring Blin and Blin's Famous French Fabrics

Coats of individualized style, fashioned from fine broadcloths, suede velours and other smooth face fabrics, manufactured by Blin and Blin of France as well as the rougher face materials, such as Camella, kitten's ear and plush cloths are shown in a very wide selection. Included are Paquin, shawl and cape collars and the new gauntlet cuffs of selected furs, such as American opossum, sable, Genette, French beaver, wolf, Caracul and southern mink. One of many excellent values is a group of coats, fashioned from fine broadcloths, featuring cape, shawl and cushion collars of opossum. Price $39.50
Others at $49.50, $59.50, $65.00, up to $85.00

Luxurious Fur Coats Advance 1930 Styles

Looser, longer and more than ever luxurious, that is the decree of Dame Fashion concerning Fur Coats for the coming season. Rich, deep furs will protect you when the winter wind speeds against your speeding car, but with this protection there will be a sense of freedom for there is no restriction in these looser, and more-comfortable-than-ever styles.

The large shawl collars—larger and more becoming than ever—will add to the very becoming effect of these luxurious coats. Large cuffs on the sleeves have a slenderizing effect on the wrists and are becoming to the hands. In such clever ways is the note of femininity sounded.

See some of these in our window and then see and try on any of these new Coats on our Second Floor. Prices are reasonable. For instance—

Silver Muskrat Coats at $150.00 and $185.00
Electric Seal Coats at $97.50 and $200.00
Grey Caracul Paw Coats $250.00
Red Fox Neckpieces, straight double fur, at $95.00

New Felt Hats

From Henry Heath

This very latest shipment of these famous English make, fully up to the wonderful standard of precise and perfect workmanship which is characteristic of "Henry Heath" is delightfully surprising in the diversity of shape and in the fresh piquancy of style. All are copies of French models that have proved to be winners in the race for favor. There are tight off-the-face models, long one side effects, and brims that fit gracefully to frame the face. The range is large and varied and the collection includes soft stylish blacks beside many charming colors such as Lucerne blue, rose-bisque, sand, almond green, silver-grey, browns and navy. Priced at $7.95, $10.50, $12.50 and $15.00

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

Income of $400 annually a Britisher paid $93 in taxes, whereas a Frenchman with an income of $144 paid $49 in taxes.

Reference was made to the reparations pact under which it had been promised that Germany would pay in full for the rehabilitation of the devastated areas of France. But, to date, France had spent $10,000,000,000 in repairing her devastated areas, of which sum Germany had contributed only $1,000,000,000, and that in kind.

In spite of this France, in the interests of peace and with a desire to come to a good understanding with Germany, had accepted the proposal to reduce from $33,000,000,000 to $28,000-000,000 Germany's total debt to the Allies, of which she was entitled to receive fifty-two per cent under the Spa agreement. Under this agreement France would receive a little over five billion dollars, of which she would have to pay two-thirds to Great Britain and the United States in settlement of her debts to those countries.

SIX HUNDRED CHURCHES
There are about 600 churches
in Moscow, but very few of them are now utilized as churches, said Mrs.
Hansen. A large number of them have been converted by the Soviet organizations into clubs for the people, and are known as "Godless Clubs."

There is no religion in Russia today in the view of the Soviet government.

If the people desire to worship they are allowed to follow their inclin-ings, but no assistance is given by the state.

Many of the priests of the Russian Orthodox Church are without the means of sustaining life.

The Moscow River is the only beauty spot in Russia to-day, said Mrs. Hansen.

The Lenin Hills are beautiful but the city itself is no longer the first city it used to be.

The famous Kremlin is now used as Soviet government offices.

CRESTS REMAIN
The Imperial crests still remain in the towers, superinduced against the flames of the Soviet insignia. These crests were so cleverly and solidly built into the towers that it is impossible for the revolutionists to remove them without demolishing the building.

LENIN'S RAISED HAND
In death, Nicolai Lenin, father of the revolution, still holds his fist upraised, characteristic of him when laying down the doctrine of Sovietism in life.

Mrs. Hansen visited Lenin's tomb in Moscow. The body, embalmed and waxed, is to be seen through a glass panel in the casket as it reposes in the mausoleum.

Much prominence was being given in Russia at the time of Mrs. Hansen's visit to the 33,000,000,000 rouble loan being floated by the Soviet for the development and improvements of railways and highways.

Public examples are made of those citizens who do not contribute as much as the authorities think they should, even though they are reduced to a state of want in their efforts to subscribe to the loan.

Education of Russian children along communist ideas is one of the Soviet's most determined efforts. There are 170,000 children enrolled in the schools of Moscow alone.

Dr. and Mrs. Hansen were prevented by the Sino-Russian dispute over the Chinese Eastern Railway from entering Mancuria, at Harbin, and consequently, were forced to proceed to Vladiv-ostok, where they took steamer for Tsushima, Japan.

LADY JOURNALIST LIFTS
VEIL IN SOVIET RUSSIA

SURVIVAL OF GOVERNMENT
After passing through Russia from border to border, Dr. and Mrs. Hansen are of the opinion that out of the present Soviet system there may evolve some instrument that will give Russia a basis of government that will survive.

The tour of the European countries completed, Mrs. Hansen, responding to journalistic instincts, entered Russia with the object of investigating conditions in that country, making the journey despite warnings that it was inadvisable at this time to do so.

NEW FREEDOM MOVEMENT
She found the "new freedom of Russia" movement strongly entrenched and witnessed a number of demonstrations, particularly at Moscow and Vladivostok, where the crowds carried numberless banners with slogans extolling the Soviet Government and fiery orators announced the doctrine of the Red Flag and expressed the resolve of United Russia to lead the rest of the world to freedom.

During her travels, Mrs. Hansen found an undercurrent of feeling that indicated possibilities of counter revolution, but the success of such a movement is improbable, she believes.

She said the Russian leaders are constantly on the alert for such a move, which would be ruthlessly throttled at its inception.

Some Communist ideals, says Mrs.
Hansen, appear to be more practical theory, but are unworkable in practice.

There is, for instance, a wide divergence of opinion over the Communist principles of a man more fortunate than his fellows must share his wealth with his poorer comrades.

The lot of the peasantry, however, seems to be better than it was under the Imperial regime, Mrs. Hansen relates.

The peasant of the rural communities, forming the mass of Russia's population, appears to be more contented in some respects, and is indifferent regarding the methods of government as long as he is left alone and the crops are good.

FAMINE SPECTRE
It is not generally known that Russia faced famine during the present summer. The Moscow government took steps to prevent foodstuffs exportation, and every section of the country was rationed, tickets being issued by the central authority, limiting the consumption of bread, butter and sugar.

The replanted crops of this season, said Mrs. Hansen, seemed to be good, and the harvesting would offset the famine threat.

For a distance of 3,000 miles, principally in the districts between Perm and Irkutsk, were to be seen hundreds of miles of fine crops.

Floods, however, had caused serious damage to growing grain in the vicinity of the Amur and Obi Rivers.

Dr. and Mrs. Hansen entered Russia at Paeijiroli on the Polish border, and were granted a twenty-day permit, the journey through to Vladivostok occupying eleven days.

They were required to buy roubles in Russia, receiving a little under two cents for one gold dollar. Economic conditions appeared distressing to them from the moment they entered the country.

SIX HUNDRED CHURCHES
There are about 600 churches
in Moscow, but very few of them are now utilized as churches, said Mrs.
Hansen. A large number of them have been converted by the Soviet organizations into clubs for the people, and

SONS OF FREEDOM
SING AS THEY GO TO SERVE TERMS

Spurning proffered aid on alighting from the high step of the railway coach, a woman of eighty-two shuffled through the dust to the waiting bus.
She crooned her Russian song and the others joined her as she found a seat.
She is the real veteran of the party, although a number of the men appear to rival her for age. She is said to have been the leader of the recent nude parade at South Slokan. She is reputed to boast of having served a sentence for indecent exposure in Sa-katchewan following Doukhobor troubles of twenty years ago.

HEAVILY CLOTHED
Few of the women are under forty years of age. Paradoxically, these men and women who must serve six months for indecent exposure went to their jail completely swamped in clothing.
They wore the numerous layers of attire so dear to the hearts of the Russians. Each of them carried a little bundle. The women wore bright ker-chiefs over their heads. The men's footwear varied from hobnail boots to carpet slippers. They exchanged comments in Russian between songs. They have pleasant voices and sing well together—too well, in the opinion of the guards.

Between the time the special cars were halted at Essondale Station and the last bus left for Oakalla, not ten minutes elapsed.
The transfer was watched by not more than a dozen spectators, exclusive of provincial police constable and detectives.

Men of the party present jobs for the prison barbers. For the most part their locks are long and their beards are heavy.

LINDY GROWS UP!

These pictures illustrate how, in two years, the strain of being a world hero has transformed Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh from a care-free youth into a man, his face strengthened and hardened by the worries of his career. The two lower photos were taken at the time of Lindy's epochal flight from New York to Paris. Contrast them with the upper picture, which was snapped when he attended the National Air Races in Cleveland recently.

Give Vegetable Meals Balance With a Souffle

By SISTER MARY.
A plain souffle is quite nourishing;
and yet not too heavy for hot noons.
Served with a cream vegetable, it makes an excellent main dish for luncheon.

The souffle is not as hearty as a noodle or macaroni ring but is a better source of protein and brings a vegetable meal into satisfactory balance.

A luncheon in which the souffle with a cream vegetable forms the main course would be well rounded out curly and with bacon, dressing, apples, ham bread and stuffed baked apples were served.

Do not attempt to remove the souffle from the dish in which it was baked for serving. The vegetable in its sauce must be served in a separate dish, and the souffle served from the baking dish.

Search Made For Fishing Vessel

Vancouver, Sept. 11 - Provincial police have been asked to search the coast waters for the North Vancouver fishing vessel "Okanagan No. 3," owned by the Marine Transport Company of North Vancouver. The boat, under charter to the Canadian Fishing Company Limited, left the Fraser River August 28 under command of Captain Chris Berg with five fishermen on board. She was destined for Lagoon Bay canyons, to work at the fishing. Since she left the river she has not been reported. It is presumed the experienced engine trouble and is lying up in some safe but uninhabited cove along the coast, repairing the trouble.

Veterans Now Plan to Fight Job Hunters

Special to The Times
Duncan, Sept. 11 - The Canadian Legion, Provincial Command, is preparing a tabulation of ex-veterans who have been discharged from the Government service from no cause of their own, and whose positions have been filled by political appointees. At the last meeting of the Cowichan branch Captain Groves read an extract from Bulletin No. 15 requesting information as to cases where returned veterans have been ejected without cause from the Government service. Information is also sought as to the manner in which the vacancies so created have been filled, with details of the political influence and through whom the pressure was exerted.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A lady driver was fined $10 in City Police Court this morning for failing to stop behind a street car which was halted to take on passengers.

The purchase of 100 tons of asphalt at $21.50 per ton, from the Imperial Oil Company for the city street paving plant has been authorized by the City Council.

A report from the port committee will be included in the business to come before the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Friday.

The regular meeting of the City School Board will be held at 8 o'clock this evening, at the City Hall, when attendance and other reports will be presented to the trustees.

Betty Morris, convicted on a charge of vagrancy, was fined $25, or in default of payment, one month's imprisonment, when arraigned before Magistrate George Jay in city police court this morning.

A midnight prowler at the Balmora Hotel last night secured a sum of money amounting about $50 from one of the rooms, it was reported to the police this morning. Detectives were sent to investigate.

George Seaton convicted on a charge of driving to the common danger, was fined $10 in city police court this morning. Four other cases of driving to the common danger were before the court, one being dismissed and the other three adjourned.

The regular business meeting of the I.O.G.T. will be held to-morrow evening at the home of Mrs. Schofield, 823 McPherson Avenue, at 7 o'clock, instead of as previously announced. A full attendance of members is desired.

An application for permission to carry mail between Victoria-Vancouver, and Vancouver-Nanaimo has been made to Ottawa by the Alaska-Washington Airways Limited. If permission is granted it is probable special stickers will be issued for letters routed by the service.

A public meeting, called by Mayor Herbert Anson for the discussion of plans for a Spring Festival and Daffodil Show in 1930, which was to have taken place on Thursday evening, has been postponed. The meeting will be called in about a week or ten days time, it is stated now.

"The Modern American Novel, as illustrated by Willa Cather, Theodore Dreiser and Sinclair Lewis," is the subject of a public lecture to be given by C. Eden Quinton, B.A., assistant professor of history in the University of Washington, on Monday evening next in Christ Church Cathedral Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. The lecture, admission to which will be free, is to be held under the auspices of the Cathedral Women's Auxiliary.

The annual harvest festival services will be held during the coming week-end at the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. No cash donations are being solicited because of a canvass taken place for funds to assist the new city hall building scheme. Adjutant Meredith will be grateful if the friends who usually donate fruit, vegetables or flowers will leave them at the Citadel, telephone 1142R if desiring their gifts to be called for. The sale of produce will be held in the Citadel on Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Federal Appeal Tribunal of Soldiers' Pension Commission is Here

Sittings of the Federal Appeal Board of the Soldiers' Pension Commission are in progress at the Court House, 854 Broad Street, to-day, where a number of local cases are being presented by Gerald H. Sedger, Soldier Advocate for Vancouver Island. The court is using the Appeal Court room for its sessions. Evidence was taken this morning in regard to the first appeals on the list.

The Federal Appeal Board is here in the course of its regular tour of the Dominion. The party from Ottawa includes E. L. Wickham, C. W. E. Meath, C. B. Tapp and J. A. W. Labelle. They are registered at the Empress Hotel.

ISLAND SCOUT TELLS OF CAMP AT BIRKENHEAD

CAMP PROCEDURE
Cooks of the camp were up at 6:30 o'clock every morning and everybody else turned out at 7 o'clock, he explained. After breakfast a flag-raising ceremony was conducted every morning at 8 o'clock, followed by general work around the camp.

After lunch, at 1 o'clock, parades took place, with the march past between 3 and 4 o'clock. The boys were then free to do what they wished until supper time. Lights out at 10:15 o'clock brought the day to a close.

Wind and rain made conditions for the camp anything but favorable, but the boys, in true scout fashion, made the best of things and all enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

TOUR OF ENGLAND

After the camp had broken up, the Duncan scout spent several weeks touring in England and Scotland, he visited Westminster Abbey, saw the Tower of London and the other landmarks of the grand old city which attract all visitors. Before sailing from Glasgow for home, he went on a bus tour of the Trossachs.

Since he arrived home, Allan has been besieged with invitations to speak about his trip and to write about it. He feels, however, that his studies at the Normal School will be interfered with by such a course and will refrain from fulfilling such invitations.

PROFICIENT SCOUT

Vancouver Island and Victoria have reason to be proud of their representative to the Jamboree. Allan started his scouting in Victoria, joining the Wolf Cubs. Later in Duncan, he rose steadily, and finally became troop leader at Quamichan. He has secured many badges for proficiency in handicrafts and gained what is probably the highest rank possible for a scout, that of King's Scout.

While at Birkenhead, Allan was chosen as the "second" in the patrol to which he was assigned, this being a signal honor, since he was chosen from a large number for his ability.

TO SALT AND FILLET V.I. FISH IN VICTORIA

Seasonal Salting of Salmon
For Oriental Trade to Be Developed Here

Island Fishing and Packing Company to Produce Filleted
Fish For Prairies

Commencing next week the Island Fishing and Packing Company Limited will commence drying salmon for the Orient trade on a seasonal production of chums expected to last six weeks, it was stated by Major Harding, managing director of the company, today. Arrangements have been made with the Canadian National Railway to use the C.N.R. sheds at Ogden Point for the purpose.

The development is in the nature of a test, and will be conducted with fish brought from both east and west coasts of the Island. The tests are expected to show whether it will be cheaper to bring the fish here for salting or to establish salteries on the fishing grounds for this branch of the trade.

TO FILLET MARY

Progress was being made with the production of samples for the prairie trade in packaged filleted fish, stated Major Harding. Filleted steaks from salmon and halibut species are to be wrapped and packaged to meet the modern demand for a no-waste, easily-handled product.

The salting and packing will be carried on in arrangement with the Victoria Cold Storage Company, which will also do the freezing and provide storage for the Island Packing Company in this branch of the business. The modern tendency towards lightweight foods, handily packed and utilized, has created the demand for the filleted product. The demand for home and prairie markets will be served with the new product.

PUBLICITY MEN HERE SATURDAY

Directors of Joint Advertising Campaign Will Meet in Victoria

Directors of the Puget Sounders and British Columbia Associated will be guests in Victoria Saturday when they will meet the directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

A successful season of joint advertising in the interests of the seven cities of Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham, Everett, Long View, Vancouver and Victoria, will be reviewed.

Fred Krone, president, will preside at the meeting. C. E. Johns, secretary, publicity director of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, will tell of the campaign.

The Puget Sound directors with the directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau will be guests of R. H. B. Ker at his summer home at Gordon Head in the afternoon.

DUNCAN OFFERS PLAN TO LOWER HIGHWAY RISKS

Chamber of Commerce Would Vest Arterial Traffic With Right of Way

Special to The Times
Duncan, Sept. 11 - A campaign to vest traffic on main highways with precedence over vehicles crossing or turning in from side roads has been opened by the Duncan Chamber of Commerce.

The object of the campaign, when between a car proceeding straight ahead and one turning, should be placed on the vehicle turning, in the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce.

These suggested changes were unanimously supported and copies of the resolution have been forwarded to Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works; Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney General; the Duncan City Council, the Municipality of North Cowichan, the Good Roads League, and the Automobile Club of British Columbia. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas all rules and regulations affecting traffic on the highways should be such as to facilitate the movement of traffic and that of making it safe, and whereas, there has not yet been adopted any broad principle concerning the classification of configurations at intersections from the point of view of precedence of one motorist over another, and whereas, many accidents occur at intersections, which could be avoided if motor car drivers having the right of way were given precedence, and whereas, on highways, motor cars to-day travel at thirty, forty and fifty miles per hour, thus resembling railroad trains in potential danger to life, and whereas in making any turning or deviation from a straight course a motor car driver must, in the interest of safety, and economy, reduce speed, therefore be it resolved: That the traveler on the interior road be required to give precedence to the one on the superior road, and that he be held responsible in the case of a collision, and that at certain intersections signs should be placed as follows:

"On a superior road, where approaching an inferior road, there be placed a sign reading, 'Inferior Road, Proceed' and on the inferior road, approaching the superior road there be placed a sign reading, 'Danger, Superior Road, Has the Right of Way,' and the motorist making a turning, and colliding with one going straight, be held responsible in case of collision."

His speech, given at the Empress Hotel last session, September 18, November 14, December 11, January 23, March 28, April 17,

SEARCH MADE FOR MISSING TUG CREW OF PORT ARTHUR

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 11 - A boat sent from Bayfield to-day is searching among the Apostle Islands for the Canadian tug A. B. Commerce and a raft of pulpwood, missing on Lake Superior. The raft, worth $100,000, was sent with the tug from Port Arthur, Ont., a week ago, bound for Ashland.

Anxiety is felt for the crew, who are believed to be in the area, but lost in one of the storms on Lake Superior during the last few days.

Veterinarian Of Hawaii Motors Here

Dr. F. C. Fitzgerald of Maui Places Children in School in Victoria

With the intention of placing their daughter and sons in college here, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Fitzgerald of Maui, Territory of Hawaii, have been in the city since the beginning of the week.

"They get a better grounding here," said Dr. Fitzgerald, when questioned as to his decision to place his children in school in Victoria.

The two boys, who have attended military schools in the United States, will be placed in the University School at Mount Tolmie, while the daughter will attend St. Margaret's School.

FIGHTS TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Fitzgerald is territorial veterinarian with the Board of Agriculture and Forestry of Hawaii and specializes in the eradication of tuberculosis in cattle.

In his capacity as veterinarian he has been touring the United States for the testing of animals for disease. There are no free-tuberculosis areas for cattle in the United States or Hawaii, as in Canada.

"Our inspection system is very thorough and I find that the country is remarkably free from tuberculosis in cattle," he said.

Dr. Fitzgerald and family are staying at the Dominion Hotel. This forenoon they visited Capt. Edward Kelly, superintendent of the Rithet docks here and well known in Hawaiian circles.

MOTORED OVER COUNTRY

Before coming on to Victoria, Dr. Fitzgerald and his family has motored through practically every state of the Union.

He recently attended the Veterans' Medical Conference in Detroit.

COX IS MYSTERY MAN OF NANAIMO FEDERAL RIDING

Some declined to give his name. Others suggested inquiry be made of somebody else. Some confessed that although they were in the convention they did not know.

DOING "A LITTLE WORK"

When light burst through on the little mystery it developed that Mr. Cox was doing "a little work for the Government," so in view of Premier Tolmie's alleged dislike of political activities on the part of anyone enjoying a place on the Government payroll it was not thought desirable to embarrass him by calling his attention to the fact that a member of his staff was a Federal riding secretary.

The desire for secrecy was further emphasized by the fact that until Attorney-General Pooley and Mr. Dickie made their memorable speeches championing patronage provincially and federally and held out promises of political preferment for loyal party workers it had been generally understood that the "vicious system," as it was frequently termed by Conservative speakers, was to go. Another complication was that political activity has been considered good grounds for dismissal from the Government service and it might be thought that Mr. Cox as secretary would continue to be as politically active as he has been for the Conservative party for many years.

INVESTIGATING

Another reason advanced for the unavailability of announcing Mr. Cox's appointment is that he is the chief of an army of investigators recruited to serve the Government whose work could not be done so effectively with the spotlight played upon them.

Mr. Cox has recently completed inquiries into the operation of the Kamloops Sanatorium which resulted in a shake-up of officials. On that occasion his activities were unheralded. His activity in this direction has since been employed in other lines, but his duties as the strong silent investigator are apart from his regular job.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late John Lauchlan will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from McCall Bros. Funeral Home. Adjutant Merritt will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

At Ottawa, Ont., on Friday, August 30, there passed away Mary Justice Bradley-Austin, within one month of her ninety-fifth year, widow of William Augustus Austin, C.B.E., D.L.S., P.L.S., son of the late Capt. Francis Edmund Austin of His Majesty's Regt. Hindustan Peninsula, and second daughter of the late Capt. Clements Edward Bradley, sister of Mrs. E. T. Codd, Argyle Court, 424 Linden Avenue.

B.C. ELECTRIC THIRD AMONG ELECTRIC RAILS

Ottawa Announces Its Earnings Three Times Greater Than Montreal System

"Splendid News" Comments
A. T. Goward, Vice-president on Seeing Report

Officers of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company this morning expressed pleasure when informed that the Federal Government has announced that the company stands third among electric railways of Canada.

"That is splendid news," remarked A. T. Goward, vice-president, when shown the following dispatch from Ottawa.

"A report on the electric railways of Canada for the year 1928, has just been issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics from which it appears that the British Columbia Electric Railway stands third in Canada and in several respects first among fifty-nine companies whose returns are included. In order the four companies are: Montreal, Toronto, British Columbia, and Winnipeg, although the last named might be described as 'also ran.'"

"Returns from the B.C. Electric are as follows: Gross earnings, $5,923,284; operating expenses, $4,722,799; net earnings, $1,190,485; total income, $3,945,981; taxes paid, $527,862; interest on funded debt, $850,404; surplus, $2,567,715; reserves and special charges, $201,645; dividends, $1,701,898; miles of track, 304; passengers carried, 77,253,646; tons of freight, 520,648; motormen and conductors, 1,240; total employees, 2,237; salaries and wages paid, $3,611,061.

"It is interesting to note that it exceeds Montreal in dividends paid three times and also pays more taxes by considerable than any other company. Only six companies in Canada out of fifty-nine are reported as paying dividends. These are Vancouver, Cape Breton, Montreal, New Brunswick Power Co., and Winnipeg. On the whole, for financial results and for per capita returns, the British Columbia Company makes easily the best showing in Canada."

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, Sept. 11.—Whitney, of the Wall Street financial bureau, says today:

SHARP RALLY TO-DAY

"The combination of a decrease in steel tonnage statement substantially larger than expected and an advance in call money, which even the expected is never calculated to improve the speculative public's morale, brought lower prices yesterday, particularly in that type of stocks which is calculated to exert the most influence, and incidentally, provide us with what may well be looked upon as a secondary reaction to the primary movement of last Thursday. At the close, this secondary movement has established practically all of the market leaders both in the rail and industrial groups at their line of support, so that, irrespective of money developments or outside developments, a decided rally is indicated for to-day.

"From present indications, the next month to six weeks will be one in which even greater discrimination will have to be exercised than at any time this year. Many sharp advances and many new records will be established in the face of a rather aimless drifting general market.

"Oils and rails.—The outstanding group is the oil group with Standard Oil of New Jersey at a new high record and clearly the way for an advance in this group irrespective of general market action. In view of this, we should think it is advisable to repeat some of the objectives given, viz: Standard Oil 105-115, 80% 72-75, Pan American 110-120, Royal Dutch about 100. Standard of N.J. continues to be recommended particularly below 75 and the others at any figures below their thus far tops of the year. The rail group is to be followed by the immigration of an announcement of a consolidation plan which will link Baltimore and Ohio, Reading and Central Railway of N.J., anticipating that the B. & O. and Reading to the Erie, D.L. & W. and C.P.R. which you are advised to buy at this time.

"In the utilities Columbia Gas and Electric is scheduled to cross top for the first time and continue advance to between 110-115. American Foreign Power is scheduled for another of its characteristic movements. You can enter this issue slightly below the figure at which you were advised to take profits and this you are advised to do.

"Use the current dip for the purchase of Kennecott Copper, Mack Truck, Grigby Grunow and White Rock, but continue to go light in the market leaders, most of which, both in the industrial and rail groups, have been the subject of recent profit-taking recommendations."

Trail Smelter Ore Shipments Running Heavy

Nelson, Sept. 11.—Receipts from custom mines at the Trail smelter of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, during the week of September 1 to 7, amounting to 834 tons, send the total receipts for the year to date from custom mines over the 20,000-ton mark to 20,831 tons. The week's total from custom mines was the largest single week's total since February 8, 1914, and was the third largest total for a single week this year to date.

The same comparison applied to the receipts for the week from company mines and to the combined total from custom and company mines. Company mines shipped a total of 12,168 tons. The third largest week's shipment of the year to date, and combined total was 12,994 tons, third largest of the year.

Company mine shipments now total 361,355 tons for the year to date and the total shipments to the smelter from custom and company mines this year to date now is 380,975 tons.

North Star Mine at Kimberley, made its first shipment to the smelter during the week. Its shipment totaled thirty-six tons.

McAllister Mine at Three Forks, for the third week in succession was the heaviest shipper with 181 tons. Noble Fire at Sandon was second with 146 tons and the Ruth at Sandon was third with 122 tons. Silver King at Tulameen, Kettle Valley, was the lightest shipper with thirty-one tons.

Macdonald Declares New Naval Reduction Plans Will Succeed

Durham, Eng., Sept. 11.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald does not believe the British-United States naval conversations can fail.

"I don't think I can call them negotiations exactly, but we are preparing," he said, "We are not going to run like a bull at a hedge and find when we have prepared the stage that we have begun without completely understanding each other. I am optimistic, and have always been, because the volume of world opinion that is supporting both nations is so strong that I do not believe we can fail."

The Innocent Cheat

By Ruth Dewey Groves
AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

He lifted a torn, soiled sleeve to his dripping eyes and sniffed. Then he began again. Brent, listening patiently, lost not a word. They sat there at the table for an hour. The bowl of smelly crackers was empty, the ash tray full of expensive ashes. The story was told.

At least Brent concluded that he would learn no more of it from Charles Nellin. That was the vagrant's name. Charles Owens Nellin. He mustn't forget, Charles Owens Nellin.

All that came now was repetition. But h. had learned a great deal. He knew that Charles Nellin had been Evangeline Cunningham's music teacher. Knew her father had not seen her since her elopement with Nellin. Knew that she had died a few years after their marriage. Knew that Nellin had a daughter. She'd been named for her mother—Evangeline. Where she was or what had become of her he could not learn.

Nellin had slipped away from all questions about her without answering. Brent could not tell whether by intention or the vagary of his mind. He seemed scarcely to be aware of the fact that he was being led along—but he did make it plain that the girl's grandfather was not likely to find her. Oh, yes, he admitted, Cunningham knew of her existence. Evangeline had written to him of the child's birth. His reply—Nellin didn't say in so many words what it was, but Brent understood that it had been caustic.

He seemed, suddenly, to suspect that his listener might misjudge his cleverness. "Listen," he blurted. "I'll tell you what I've done . . . how I've cheated him!"

CHAPTER V

"I've fixed it! I've fixed it! I've taken care that he'll never have a chance to ruin the little girl's life! The pauper, Nellin, shaken with his dim memories, crashed his fist down upon the table with a burst of energy that seemed to desert him the next instant. He slumped in his chair, the flash of spirit died out of his eyes and he began to mutter disconnectedly. Having overcome him probably, Brent reflected.

"Wasting his life . . . waiting, like a vulture, there in that old house . . . Evangeline died and the little girl . . . he'll never find her. He stopped and cackled deep in his throat at the memory of some way in which he had thwarted his revengeful father-in-law.

Brent pressed in with a question. "Little girl?" he said. "Wasn't this all a long time ago?"

Nellin's head drooped lower on his chest. He seemed not to have heard Brent's question. Brent did not repeat it. For the mumbled was reaching a point on which he wanted more information. He leaned farther over the table, listening attentively.

"Nobody knows where to find her," (Brent assumed this referred to the child Evangeline). "He'll never have a chance to shake his money bags in her face . . . money bags . . . poor Evangeline, nothing, once, but raw carrots for two days . . . swept out a grocery store . . . did you ever steal a raw egg . . . too hungry . . . but I got the carrots . . . too bad about the egg . . . might have worked all day . . ."

Brent waited for more about the child. The muttering continued.

"Hush, hush," he said. "All Nellin mother now. Like her mother. The voice faded, waded away.

"Grown, you mean?" Brent prompted softly.

"Eighteen next month. And I haven't seen her for years . . . she wouldn't know me . . . wouldn't know her father."

"Does she know she's Cunningham's granddaughter?"

The bleary eyes lifted, the wobbly head shook a feeble negative. "That's how I've fooled him. She'll never go to him for help. She can't . . . no one knows."

"Cunningham knows how old she is, doesn't he? When she was born?" Brent's questions now were tinged with cunning. A nebulous idea by which he might profit from this story he had stumbled upon was taking shape in his mind.

The cackling, triumphant laughter came again, louder this time.

"He's cheated, I tell you. He'll die but he won't know what she's missed a pretty kid . . . Evangeline was afraid of him . . . I made her afraid."

"I'm afraid of me too . . . never wrote."

Brent interjected sharply: "The child? Yes, she wrote about the child; you said so."

"Not then at the child's birth, Brent understood . . . just before she died . . . damn his soul . . . it broke her heart . . . she died . . . his letter killed her . . . he doesn't know . . . he's still there . . . rotting like his house . . . she starved."

"Where were you when you got his letter?"

"En? The eyes that met Brent's were blank. "Where? . . . Vangle was hungry . . . and the kid . . . she wanted food for it . . . but I wouldn't let her write . . . But she did write," Brent insisted. "Yes, yes . . . she said the baby cried too much . . . but I wouldn't let her tell him anything . . ."

"Not when your child was born, or where?"

"Nothing! nothing!" The answer came in the shrill treble of a child, pulsating with impatience. "I've fooled him! Thought we were going to write again, beg for money, white for mercy."

"Isn't there any record he could get hold of, find out some of these things you haven't told him?"

"Record?" Nellin repeated vaguely. "Record? I've fooled him, I tell you!"

"All right," Brent said soothingly. "And now what are you going to do? Aren't you ever going to tell Cunningham of his daughter's death?"

"Rotting in his house . . . the mood of detachment had returned. Brent realized. He glanced at the watch. "He'd have to be going he saw. surprised at the lateness of the hour."

"Here," he said, reaching for his wallet and extracting a small bill. "Take this money and find a place to sleep. He thrust the bill into the grimy fingers, noting as he did so that they were long and slender, an indication that Nellin had told the truth about his artistic occupation of earlier years."

"And be around here about this time to-morrow night. I may be able to do something for you."

Brent got to his feet, picked up his hat and strode over to the cashier's desk.

Before he reached it, however, he paused and beckoned the waiter who had served him. "Look up the old chap," he said, not forgetting to accompany the request with a reasonable tip. "I've asked him to meet me here to-morrow night. In the meantime I shall look around for some way to help him. Sorry spectacle, these old beggars on our streets."

"Yes, sir. I'll keep an eye on 'im," the waiter answered.

Brent paid the bill and left. The rain had stopped but he hurried, and called the first empty cab he saw.

At his destination he was admitted into a modernistically furnished apartment by a maid whose air plainly told him that he was already judged guilty.

As he handed his things to her he smiled. "A bit late, Cora. Has Miss Segro dined?" he said pleasantly.

"Not yet, sir, the maid answered. "But I'm afraid cook has gone out; it's her night off, sir."

Brent went on, into the living-room and took a seat on the low crimson divan. On the floor at his feet he saw a book that he could easily guess had been tossed there in a temper.

Well, he told himself, he wouldn't have to put up with Carmel's temperment much longer. Carmel's anticipated mixed with admiration for her.

She was so much the type of woman he admired—but she had outlived her usefulness to him. She was known in Shanghai, in Cebu, in Manila, in Buenos Ayres, in Bombay. He had not forgotten her. She was marked with danger.

"You look older," he said quickly using the most effective means he knew to head off the storm. "It ages you to lose your temper, Carmel."

"Then why, why? why?" she cried, "do you keep me waiting? It is that you like to make me of the old hag?"

"I tell you, I will not accept! I will not tolerate!"

Brent laughed, a forced sound. "Business before pleasure, my dear," he said broadly.

"Business?" Carmel shrieked. "Ah! It is forever business with you! Have you not time for anything else?"

"Certainly," Carmel answered coolly. "I have time for dinner, and I'm famished."

"There is no dinner," the woman assured him dramatically, throwing her hands heavenward and doing her best with her acquired dramatic shrug.

"Then we will go out. Come along, Carmel, old girl; you're wasting your talent on me," Brent told her. "I know your East Side history, remember."

"Your are a fool!" Carmel returned, "if you weren't such a fool I could love you. You know how I hate to be reminded of that East Side and yet you never forget it. You are a fool."

"Well, even fools must eat, my dear. Can't you know that? Oh, yes, indeed. 'I hate you.' She flung out of the room in haste but Brent waited, knowing that she would return when she felt hungry. He had taxed his patience to the utmost.

BEDTIME STORY Uncle Wiggily's Red Apple

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Hanging on the high branch of a tree was a red apple. The cheeks of the apple were the color of a ripe tomato, but still the apple was not yet ripe enough to fall off by itself. It needed to be picked.

Uncle Wiggily, hopping beneath the tree one morning, looked up and saw the red apple. It was swaying gently in the wind and the sun was shining on it, making its red cheeks as crimson as a rose.

"Ah! that is a fine apple," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "It looks almost ripe enough to pick but it is so high over my head I cannot reach it. And I can't climb up the tree after it so I will have to wait until the apple falls."

It was such a lovely apple that Uncle Wiggily wanted to take it home to his wife, to Nurse Jane Pussy Wussy could make a dumpling of it, or put it into a pie.

"Or," said the rabbit gentleman to himself as he looked up at the apple, "my wife may wish to eat it as it is. I shall certainly be very proud and happy to take her this lovely, red apple."

Then Uncle Wiggily began to think that if he waited for the apple to fall it would be bruised and broken if it hit on the ground. And he knew it would hit the ground hard when it fell, because it was so high up on the tree.

"I'll wait for the red apple to fall,"

"So I think I'll just sit down here under the tree," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, and wait for the red apple to fall. When it does I'll let it drop into my tail, silk hat and then it will not be bruised or broken. That's a good idea.

So Uncle Wiggily sat down on a flat stone beneath the apple tree and made himself as easy as he could, waiting for the red fruit to fall into his hat. He waited and waited and waited, but still the apple did not come down.

"I wish Jole or Tommie Kat were here," said Mr. Longears after a while. "Those pussy boys could easily climb up high in this tree and claw off that apple for me. It's a pity we rabbits can't climb trees."

But then Uncle Wiggily happened to think that neither can puppy dogs, so he was no worse off than others and he felt satisfied.

"But I do wish that apple would fall," went on Mr. Longears speaking to himself. "If I have to wait here all day I'll have no adventures and then what will happen? There will be no story for the children to read in the papers to-morrow night."

However, Uncle Wiggily knew he must be patient when waiting for fruit to get ripe, so he made himself a little easier on the stone below the tree and closed his eyes to wait.

Before he knew it, Uncle Wiggily was asleep and while he slept, and while the red apple nodded in the wind, the Skillery Scallery Alligator with humps on his tail, came slinking along. The Fox and Bob Cat would have come also, but they were in jail for having tried to play a trick with the bell in the Hollow Stump School.

"Oh, ho," chuckled the Gator as he saw the rabbit under the red apple tree. "Uncle Wiggily is fast asleep. Nothing will be easier than to creep up on him and grab him by the ears before he knows which side his carrot bread is buttered on. Oh, yes, indeed."

So saying the Skillery Scallery Alligator with humps on his tail crept nearer and nearer the sleeping rabbit. So softly did the Bad Chap creep that Uncle Wiggily never heard a sound.

But the Wind that was blowing around, and gently twiddling the rabbit gentleman's whiskers, saw the Gator and the Wind said to the red apple:

"Don't you want to help me play a trick on that Bad Chap?"

"Yes, but how?" asked the apple. "I will help you if you break your off the branch where you have been growing," said the Wind. "You are so nearly ripe it is time you fell, anyhow. So don't you want to?"

"Yes," the apple answered. "But there is no trick in that."

"There will be if you fall on the Alligator's nose and bang him," said the Wind. "That will scare him and he will run away and not get Uncle Wiggily. Shall I blow you down?"

"Please do," said the red apple. "Puff!" went the Wind. Down fell the red apple and banged the Gator hard on his nose.

"Oh, an almighty must have landed on me!" howled the Bad Chap and away he ran, while the apple rolled into Uncle Wiggily's hat. This awakened the rabbit gentleman who sat up, rubbing his eyes and saying: "Ah! here is the red apple for my wife!" he said. "It came down."

And it wasn't until the Wind whispered to him that Uncle Wiggily knew all that happened. Then he was very thankful and Nurse Jane baked a cake for the rabbit lady. Now if the cloud will stand in front of the sun so it won't tickle your nose and make you sneeze. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's rolling pumpkin.

U. S. TARIFF DISCUSSION

Washington, Sept. 11.—The Senate yesterday adopted the Simmons resolution, calling on the Treasury to furnish Congress with income tax data for use in the tariff contest.

A man smoking twenty cigarettes a day would require slightly more than three years to get through a mile, or 11,500 boxes of cigarettes, counting twenty cigarettes to the box.

The World Famous "Ounce of Prevention"

A dash of ENO in a glass of water daily.

Intestinal poisoning from absorption is the cause of many ills. It yields and succumbs to ENO'S "Fruit Salt" because ENO so surely, but ever so gently, and safely, eliminates the poisonous waste matter that causes it.

Thus does the simple daily dash of ENO'S "Fruit Salt" become the "ounce of prevention" that forestalls any necessity for the more drastic measures.

To gain a new zest for life and its duties, test ENO for yourself . . . just a dash in a glass of water every morning for a few days.

But remember, there is only one ENO. Resolutely refuse substitutes; then you will know that you have the safe, dependable, non-habit-forming health beverage.

DOROTHY DIX

A YOUNG woman writes me: "I am going to marry the dearest fellow in the world, and because there is no other way out of it, I am going to live with his mother, and I am determined to get along with her. Can you give me a few tips on how to do it?"

It is always a dangerous adventure and one that nearly always ends in disaster for a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law to attempt to live under the same roof because, for one reason, it takes more breadth of character and generosity of soul and unselfishness than most women possess to keep them from being jealous of each other. The human triangle never presents more acute points or is more full of tragedy than when the "other woman" is the wife or the mother.

And for another reason mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law who live together generally have a kill-kenny cat temper because they cannot keep from interfering with each other, and for still another reason they do not harmonize because they represent the clash between two generations, the old way and the new way of looking at everything, and doing everything from matters of etiquette and propriety to rocking babies.

Still, however hazardous the venture of a bride going to live with her mother-in-law, there are those who must rather put up with their courage in both hands and make it, and if they have enough patience and forbearance and wisdom and determination, they can make a success of it.

For, after all, mothers-in-law are not ogres, waiting to devour hapless little brides. They are, for the most part, good, kind, well-meaning women, a little set in their opinions and determined not to have their own way. Just a fair average example of the mill run of women and as like a girl's own mother as two peas in a pod. Also, they react to the same stimuli her mother does.

So my first tip to the young wife who is going to live with her mother-in-law is not to go into her new home with a chip on her shoulder looking for a fight and determined that no mother-in-law shall put anything over on her. Instead, approach mother-in-law with the olive branch in your hand and make more effort to vamp her than you ever did to get her son. Spread the olive and put honey on your tongue. Be more deferential to her than her own daughters are.

Don't resent her every suggestion any more than you would your own mother's. Ask her advice. After all, she has had a lot more experience in the world than you have had and knows many things that it will take you thirty or forty years to find out for yourself. And, anyway, you won't have to follow her advice if you don't want to, but it will tickle her pink for you to pay her the compliment of seeking her opinion on matters.

My second tip is: Bismarck her jealousy. Don't flaunt the fact that her son belongs to you now in his mother's face. Don't monopolize him. Share him with her. See that he pays her even more attention than he did before he was married. Leave them alone together for little talks.

Keep in mind that it is a bitter thing for a mother to see the son that she worships and who has been her one thought and interest ever since the day he was born, preferring another woman to her, putting another woman above her in his heart and turning to another woman for companionship.

The great fear that every woman has when her son marries is that she will lose him entirely, that his wife will separate him from her, so if you will make your husband's mother see that you have no desire to do this she will spend the balance of her life burning grateful incense at your feet.

My third tip is: Hands off the housekeeping. In her own home every woman is a Jealous Turk who bears no rival near the throne. Not even her own daughters, nor her own mother. Still less will she stand for an in-law interfering with her sacred way of doing things.

It is funny, but a woman is amenable to suggestions about her religion, her politics, her morals, her literary taste, her clothes, but woe betide the one who is rash enough to attempt to introduce a new routine in her household and to substitute dillies for tablecloths if she has been in the habit of using old-fashioned ones for thirty years, or to make a cake with three eggs if she has always used four. I know of a quarrel that split up a family that originated in the daughter-in-law refusing to wash the dishes in three waters as her mother-in-law had always done.

Of course it requires superhuman self-control for any woman to see another woman making a pie without sticking her finger in it, but keep yours out if you want to keep it from being burned. So if you want to get on in peace with your mother-in-law, leave her in sole and arbitrary command of her house and bite your tongue off before you tell her of any modern improvements.

My final tip is: Show her some affection. Call her mother and make her feel that you are her daughter and not her daughter-in-law. Treat her as you do your own mother. Give her the kind of spontaneous kiss that you give your own mother, instead of one that is just a perfunctory peck on the cheek.

Show her genuine appreciation of her kindness to you and put some warmth in your thanks for the things she gives you and does for you. Remember that it isn't any easier for her to live with you than it is for you to live with her, and that it is just as hard for her to put up with your little ways as it is for you to put up with hers.

Pay her compliments. The older we get the hungrier we are for flattery and the greedier we gobble it up. Perhaps it is because not many people bother to notice us. So turn the spotlight on your mother-in-law's good points and she will eat out of your hand.

It isn't easy for mothers-in-law and daughters-in-law to get along together, but they can do so if they will, and when they do it brings them both great happiness. So try out these tips, daughter, and Heaven send they work.

Young Son Explored With Henry Hudson

Every schoolboy and girl knows that Henry Hudson, an English navigator, discovered the bay in Canada and the river in the United States that bear his name. Not many of them know of the boy that made the journeys into strange places with him. The boy was his son, John. John went along with his father. He was in the boat, 320 years ago to-day when they first discovered the island of Manhattan, on which stands the city of New York, and sailed up the mouth of the Hudson. Indians, curious to see the white men who came to them on the strange looking vessel, paddled out to them in their canoes and went on board ship. John and the Indian boys stared at each other curiously. He was the first white boy any of them had ever seen. The first white boy in New York. They brought him presents and made signs that he was welcome. It was a wonderful experience for a boy!

Boys now go hunting in Africa and exploring to the South Pole, but that is nothing new, for years and years ago, they helped to explore North America.

To-morrow's Horoscope

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1929

This is rather an uncertain day in planetary direction, according to astrology. Confronting aspects are discerned. It is read as a fortunate day for starting on ocean trips and an extraordinary volume of overseas travel is foretold for the autumn.

Greece is to attract many visitors and is to be a region in which colonists gain prosperity.

Under this way the mind should be open to new impressions and foresight should be keen.

It is a day favorable to planning and mobilizing one's physical as well as mental resources.

Travel by airplane to-day is not so fortunate as by water, but tremendous progress in aviation continues to be indicated by the stars.

Florida and other southern states as well as the Pacific Coast will benefit through the winter months by inventions as well as commercial organizations for the promotion of travel in the air, the seers prognosticate.

England is to profit through business co-operation with the rest of the world. Understanding between nations is to be furthered by leaps and bounds in the next few months.

This will be a day auspicious for those who wish to make a business change. Hard work and perseverance will bring success. But all seekers for new work should go with the knowledge that adaptability to the changing conditions of modern life is necessary.

There is a tendency to stubbornness that must be fought down. Both men and women should guard their actions in their relationships at home, lest they make mountains of molehills in a stubborn desire to have their own way.

There is good indication for real estate transactions to-day. Those who are interested in exchanging property or acquiring it should work cautiously if they wish to benefit by this sign.

The stars are kind to those in love, for they promise happiness. Many engagements will be announced shortly which will lead to successful marriages.

Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a busy year, a year containing a few disappointments, but on the whole a year that brings satisfaction.

Children born on this day will lead active, energetic lives that are crowned with success.

Steam Equipment

With complete stocks of practically every item used to control and regulate steam supply, including Fairbanks and Pratt & Cady Valves, we can meet the demands of a wide variety of services. Our men are experienced in supplying not only the appropriate single valve, but also every item of a steam line, complete to engineers' blue prints, numbered and ready to install.

Norton Grinding Wheels

For quickly removing metal, for cutting off, for producing a high finish on any material, for any service where grinding wheels can be used, you will find a Norton Wheel that will cut quicker, or produce a higher finish, or turn out more pieces at a lower cost. Norton Wheels are carried in stock at all branches and at your service are men who have made a study of removing metal by grinding. They will tell you the right wheel to produce the most work at the lowest cost.

Transmission Equipment

To ensure the steady and economical flow of power from drive to machine, proper shafting, hangers, bearings, pulleys and belts are essential, and here you will find Graton & Knight Leather and Dick's Balata Belting, Fairbanks Wood Pulleys, Barry Steel Split Pulleys, Hyatt Roller Bearings, as well as all the numerous appliances necessary for the transmission of power.

Machinery and Supplies

Machine tools of all sorts ranging from a delicate precision lathe to a huge punch press or shear—automatic screw machines, shapers, grinders, drills, millers, threaders, planers—each selected for its proven ability—you can obtain any of them promptly through our machinery department, and here you will also find a wide range of small tools, precision instruments, taps, drills, files, grinding wheels, abrasive papers, in fact practically everything needed for modern machine shop production and maintenance.

F-M. Stationary Diesel Engines

For isolated power plants where electric power is not available, and for standby service, Fairbanks-Morse Diesel Engines have proven thoroughly dependable and remarkably low in power, operation and maintenance costs. In mine, mill, grain elevator, railway yard, town and city light, power and pumping plants, in countless instances they are giving entire satisfaction using cheap low grade fuel oils. They are made on the 2 cycle principle in a wide range of sizes from 25 to 840 H.P.

In our thirteen Branches you will find stocks of mechanical equipment and shop supplies that for variety and quantity are unequalled in Canada. Aside from the many lines made by us, we have been selected to represent many of the world's outstanding makers of machine tools, machinery, equipment and supplies. Our general catalogue shows clearly how wide a service we provide for Canadian industry. A copy will be mailed without charge.

GYROS WILL KEEP PEOPLE SMILING

Will Produce Most Popular Show of Year at Royal Victoria Next Month

"Keep 'Em Smiling," a musical comedy of 1929, has the reputation of being the most successful show now playing. It is brimful of excellent music and has all the hits of the year. It is merry mirth and is charming for the pretty girls.

Under the able direction of Miss Ma-belle Ellick of Chicago and sponsored by the Victoria Gyro Club, this new musical comedy will be at the Royal Victoria Theatre on October 3, 4 and 5. The show is exceptionally well staged and the costumes of rare beauty. The show has no dull or slow moments. The comedy is very fine. This show has a wonderful reputation and Victorians are assured of a real treat when it appears here.

Miss Mildred Page Scores Success As Lovely Dixie Belle

With a stage production entitled "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" from the pen of Hal Reid, the Mildred Page Players are pleasing large audiences at the Coliseum Theatre this week. The play is certainly the best of the three presented in Victoria since the engagement of the clever little stock group opened in Victoria.

The plot is an interesting one, and round it revolves some of the cleverest and highest class humor seen on the stage of Victoria for some time. The settings of the play are laid in the southern states and two lovable old darlings, a man and his wife provide the humor. Miss Page is cast in the title role and gives a fine performance as the old-fashioned and beautiful girl of the aristocratic South in the late eighties. Her father, Colonel Howard, is played by Phil Kiefer who is handsome as the straight and stern parent, although full of life and humor, and loving tenderness for his beautiful daughter.

On the screen this week is a picture entitled "Sunrise," starring George O'Brien. The plot is a strong one and portrays the love of a married man for another woman. Janet Gaynor, popular star of the screen and the leading role opposite O'Brien and a splendid cast supports these two stars. The characters in the play are nameless and no date or place is given. This fact alone is a unique one.

DRAMA OF CANADIAN NORTH WOODS SHOWS ON PLAYHOUSE SCREEN

A drama of the Canadian North woods appears at the Playhouse Theatre to-night. It is called "The Danger Patrol," and has as its principal William Russell and Virginia Browne Fair, with Wheeler Oakman, Rhea Mitchell, Ethel Laidlaw, Bertram Johns and Napoleon, the dog star in support. Dum, Worme produced and directed it from H. H. Van Loan's story, and from advance reports it is a production that will more than please every type of picture audience.

SAD TALE IS TOLD IN "JAZZ SINGER" AT THE COLUMBIA

The story of "The Jazz Singer," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, parallels Al Jolson's own life. He, too, ran away from an orthodox home to follow the lure of the theatre and was rewarded by applause such as no other entertainer in history has elicited. At the moment of the triumph of the Jack Robin of "The Jazz Singer," his mother comes to tell him that his father is dying and to plead with him to leave Broadway for the humble home in the Ghetto to sing the Day of Atonement song in place of his father. Torn between two loves the piece rises to dramatic heights of great beauty.

WELL-KNOWN ACTOR APPEARS ON SCREEN IN "ON WITH THE SHOW"

Harry Gribbon, appearing in "On With the Show," Warner Bros. first 100 per cent. natural color, talking, singing, dancing Vitaphone picture, now at the Dominion Theatre, was born and educated in New York City. His first stage appearance was in 1912 with Stella Mayhew in "Flo Flo." He was for a time under the management of George M. Cohan and of Frohman. He was successful on both Keith and Pantages vaudeville circuits and has appeared in many pictures, among them being "Rose Marie," "Chinatown Charlie," "Show People," "Tide of Empire," "Knockout Kelly" and "On With the Show." Many remember him in his initial part, "Suk-Hat Harry," with Mack Sennett.
